PLANE TRAGEDY STORY COMES FROM WILDS

Grain Will Come Here If Prairie Connections Made

Lack of Wheat Sources Responsible for Small Movement Through Victoria Elevator, J. C. Pendray Tells Saskatchewan Commission in Session To-day; Investigators Want to Know How Grain is Handled and Graded on B.C. Coast.

The Saskatchewan Grain Commission started here to-day to find out how the grain of the Canadian prairies moves through British Columbia ports.

At a morning session in the Court House, the commission opened its hearings by an inquiry into the operations of the Victoria grain elevator. It also launched a detailed investigation into the methods of grading and mixing followed in B.C. elevators, with the evident intention of satisfying itself whether prairie grain and prairie farmers are being properly treated on this coast. It also secured significant information on the relative advantages of shipping grain from Vancouver and Victoria, these figures indicating the relatively high cost of Vancouver shipments.

The effect of to-day's evidence was that Victoria's elevator is not getting the grain it requires for its success because it has no adequate connections on the prairies to secure business. When these connections are arranged grain will flow here in big volume because of the peculiar advantages of this port, J. C. Pendray, former mayor, who launched the elevator project originally, told the commission.

EXPERT SPEAKS

Grain was not arriving here in any large quantity at present, James Burden, elevator superintendent said, but could not give definite figures—off hand. He promised a complete statement in writing later.

Paper Company Owns Stock In Newspapers

Washington, May 1.—Emphasizing that no efforts to influence editorial policies had been made, Archibald R. Graustein of Boston, president of the International Paper and Power Company, testified before the Federal Trade Commission yesterday that his company and its affiliated concerns had purchased stock in thirteen newspapers in various sections of the United States.

25,900,000 Motor Vehicles in U.S.

Washington, May 1.—The number of motor vehicles registered in the United States rose to 24,493,124 last year, the Bureau of Public Roads announced, placing the increase over 1927 at 7,342,893, or 30 per cent.

The figure, based on state registration reports, covers automobiles, taxis, buses, motor trucks and road tractors. The owners paid the states and the district of Columbia an aggregate of $22,030,025 in license and registration fees, permit charges, fines and other taxes and penalties, an increase of $5,662,893, or 7 per cent for the year.

THREE PLANNING TO FLY BOTH WAYS ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

Hanover, N.H., May 1.—Plans for a transatlantic aeroplane flight from New York to London with two other fliers, one of them a woman, are being perfected by Capt. Harry W. Lyon, who was navigator on the transatlantic flight of the famous nonstop Southern Cross.

Lyon made the announcement here after he had denied published reports that he would be one of six internationally known aviators to make a nonstop flight across the world in September.

TO FLY IN JULY

Discussing his proposed flight, which he said was scheduled for July, Lyon said he hoped to fly from Los Angeles to New York and from that city to London and return. His companions would be Mrs. Bill Miller of Australia and Bill Lancaster of Nottingham, Eng., both experienced fliers.

Lyon said the plane the three would use was now under construction at Pasadena, Cal. He described it as a light cabin plane with three motors and a wing span of ninety-four feet. George Hackborne, Pasadena broker, is backing the proposed flight, according to Lyon.

BERLIN SEES 200 ARRESTS ON MAY DAY

Numerous Clashes Between Police and Communists in German Capital

Berlin, May 1.—Numerous clashes between police and communists took place in Berlin this afternoon, about 200 arrests being made.

The communists, after meeting in different halls, formed processions and marched through the streets. Mounted police intervened and dispersed the crowd, meeting resistance, stones and bottles being thrown at them. In some cases they fired a few shots before scattering the demonstrators, several of whom were reported to have been wounded.

RAILWAY LINES ARE BUILDERS

Development First, Profits Later, Thornton Tells Commons Committee

Ottawa, May 1.—In order to develop a country, railway mileage must be built for that purpose. For a certain period it would not be profitable and those who provided the capital must wait until the population could overtake the railway. This was the observation of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, made to the Commons committee on railways and shipping to-day.

Canada Is Now In Era Of Prosperity, Says Geneva Report

Geneva, May 1.—Canada enjoyed a year of unprecedented prosperity, says a review of economic conditions in 1928 issued by the League of Nations last night as a basis of the work of the consultative economic commission, to meet next Monday.

"North America," the report continues, "it seems probable, was the continent where trade developed most rapidly. The United States not only maintained its position as the world's leading commercial country, but increased its excess of exports over imports."

REVOLUTIONARY PLOT UNEARTHED IN BARCELONA

London, May 1.—A message to the Exchange Telegraph from Perpignan, southern France, says a revolutionary plot has been discovered in Barcelona and all troops have been confined to barracks. Numerous arrests were said to have been made, but the censorship prevented any further details from reaching the French side of the frontier.

Great Forest Blaze Sweeps Southern Area

San Bernardino, Cal., May 1.—A forest fire stirred up by a strong north wind which fanned into flames coals left from the burning of a firebreak, to-day swept over valuable timber lands in Day Canyon in the San Gabriel Mountains, west of here. The flames were said by rangers to be out of control after burning 325 acres.

MELON INQUIRY

Washington, May 1.—Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, testified to-day before the Senate judiciary committee inquiring into the right of Andrew W. Mellon to hold office that the Treasury head had not signed a contract of the Aluminum Company of America for a Canadian development as the committee has been informed.

MRS. H. W. COATES, VANCOUVER, DIES

Vancouver, May 1.—Mrs. H. Weldon Coates, wife of Dr. H. Weldon Coates and sister of Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, died at her home here at 9 o'clock this morning, following a long illness.

Commons On Vote Upholds Course of Postmaster-General

Ottawa, May 1.—The House of Commons, by ninety-two votes to sixty-eight, this afternoon rejected a Conservative amendment to a motion to go into supply that would have censured Hon. P. J. Veniot's course as Postmaster-General.

The amendment, moved on behalf of the Conservatives by H. A. Stewart, Leeds, Ont., read:

"In the opinion of this House, after consideration in committee of the whole of the estimates of the Post Office Department, it is apparent the administration of this department by the present Postmaster-General has been characterized by inefficiency, disregard of the provisions of the Civil Service Act, the Post Office Act and other statutory authorities, and merits the disapproval of this House."

Mr. Veniot, in a spirited speech, replying to Conservative criticisms, dwelt on the loyalty of the Acadia, of whom he was one, to the British crown. He said he had been attacked by certain newspapers.

D. M. Kennedy, U.F.A., Peace River, also took part in the debate.

Court to Rule on Levy By B.C. on Island Raft For Washington Company

Vancouver, May 1.—Attacking the legality of a provincial export tax on crown granted timber, which is exempt from royalty, the McDonald-Murphy Lumber Company Limited, Granville Street, Vancouver, is a plaintiff in the British Columbia Supreme Court here to-day before Chief Justice Morrison against the Attorney-General of British Columbia.

C. M. O'Brien, K.C., and D. N. Hossie are counsel for the company, and W. Martin Griffin, K.C., and A. C. Desbrisay for the Attorney-General.

ALASKA FLIERS Leave Edmonton For Chicago

Edmonton, May 1.—Making a perfect takeoff at 6 a.m. to-day, Captain Parker D. Cramer and W. S. Gamble, who left for the Edmonton aerodrome late last night, headed for Regina as the next stopping place on their return journey from East Cape, Siberia, and Nome, Alaska, to New York. On Tuesday they flew 1,800 miles from the Yukon.

If the almost ideal weather conditions which attended the start of the flight Tuesday prevail throughout the day, the airmen hope to arrive in Chicago before night.

REALTORS AID CITY PROGRESS MAYOR SAYS

Anscomb Thanks Board For Active Movement in Support of Property Values

With Returning Confidence Victoria Property Is Now a Sound Investment

Credit to members of the Real Estate Board for taking an active part in the turn of events that is leading to a steady recovery of property values in the city, was paid by Mayor Herbert Anscomb in a tribute to the realty organization at its regular luncheon meeting to-day.

Victoria property was once more a sound investment, and recorded figures for property transfers told the real story of returning confidence indicated.

"The city is vitally interested in the work of the Real Estate Board, inasmuch as there are 3,729 parcels of property owned by the city which we are offering for sale," he said. "The assessed values of these properties total over $3,000,000. The upset price of these properties is $1,654,680."

"I firmly believe that the Real Estate Board is largely responsible for the present stabilization of the real estate market in the city, and as evidence of this I would mention that in the first twenty-eight sales made by the city this year, the receipts were well in advance of the assessed values. When you remember that some of these sales were to former owners, for merely the charges against the property, this is a very striking and interesting record."

"As the members of this board individually represent very large property owners, and collectively, suppose most of the real estate in the city, it will be readily seen that it is in the best interests of the city that this board and the City Council should cooperate in every possible way, and this," (Concluded on page 3)

PLAIN WORDS ON TARIFF

Committee Chairman Says U.S. Legislators Not Listening to Other Nations

Washington, May 1.—Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee declared before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to-day that while tariff suggestions from foreign countries had been considered by the committee in framing tariff revision legislation, "we alone have the right to say what shall happen" to the market created by "American ingenuity and American labor."

Speaking after C. H. Cahan, a member of the Canadian Parliament, who suggested his country might be forced to take retaliatory measures against increased schedules, Chairman Hawley said that in the United States the tariff was regarded entirely as a domestic question, "to be settled by us alone."

"We have no intention of excluding foreign products from the American market," he said, but added the United States had no intention of throttling her industries and impeding her own development.

The ways and means committee, he said, "considered and scrutinized" communications from foreign countries, but centered its attention on the evidence submitted by the thousands of United States witnesses.

OBSERVED BY CANADIANS

Mr. Cahan, who, unlike Representative Hawley, had prepared his address in advance, warned the United States business men that their neighbors to the north "observe with interest and sometimes with concern, not only the manner but the spirit" in which the United States exercises its vast political power.

The Fordney-McCumber tariff, he said, was a severe blow to many Canadian producers, but they acknowledged the right of the United States to promote its industrial development in that manner.

Spokane Hears Rumors of Construction Into Metaline Falls Area

D. C. Coleman Quoted as Saying Branch From Trail Much Discussed

Spokane, Wash., May 1.—The Spokesman-Review says rumors are current here that the Canadian Pacific, Great Northern and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railways are considering plans to tap with lines the Metaline Falls mining area at the Washington-British Columbia border.

The paper says a recent inspection trip of J. M. Doyle, Spokane division superintendent of the Great Northern, may indicate a line will be constructed from Salmo into the Metaline Falls country. Mr. Doyle, however, said he was unaware of any plans for extensions.

Another rumor, the paper says, has it the Milwaukee will construct a branch from Newport to extend north through the Mineral Ridge, to join the Great Northern at Salmo.

COLEMAN QUOTED

The paper quotes from an interview with D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Western lines, that "one of the much discussed themes was the projected branch from Trail to the international boundary in the same general locality as the rumored extension of the Great Northern from Salmo, B.C."

"Vice-president Coleman," the paper says, "is quoted as saying the contract for the proposed line on the west side of Kootenay Lake would be let during May."

Dry Weather Brings Early Forest Fires

Abnormally dry weather throughout the Province since the beginning of the year has already shown itself in the forest fire situation, a report issued to-day by the Department of Lands shows.

Although damage up to the present time has not mounted to an alarming total, the number of fires reported shows a great increase over recent years. Indications for a hazardous situation much earlier than usual are now apparent, it was said.

Until the week ending April 26, a total of forty-nine fires had been reported in various sections of the Province. Last year up to this time only one fire had been reported while in 1927 there were ten.

HAZARDOUS WEATHER

In the southern interior where dry and hazardous weather prevails, thirty-five fires have already occurred. There have been practically no fires in this area at this time last year.

The Prince Rupert area reports ten fires this early in the season while blazes have also been noted in the Cariboo, Kamloops, Prince George and Vancouver territories.

Generally dry and hot weather is reported in the southern and northern interior and with the coming of Summer weather the dangerous situation may develop there.

AGRICULTURISTS ELECT LEADER

Ottawa, May 1.—Professor J. P. Back, vice of the University of Alberta, at Edmonton, is the newly chosen president of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists. Announcement to this effect as made here following completion of ballots returned under the society's proportional representation system.

Suffering from thirst and exhausted by their desperate effort to take off from the rugged terrain where they had made a forced landing, Robert Hitchcock and Lieut. Keith Anderson of the aeroplane Kookaburra died either on or after April 12.

The grim story of the fate of the two men who had taken part in the air search for the missing monoplane Southern Cross and its four fliers was revealed in the notes of a diary scrawled upon the rudder of their plane.

First definite news of the deaths of the men came to-day with the report from a land party that had made its way over the rough country of the Tanami district to the stranded plane.

TRAVEL CONDITIONS DIFFICULT

The land party was led by Lieut. Eaton from Wave Hill in an effort to solve the mystery of the fate of the two aviators, who had made a forced landing in the wild bush of the Northern Territory while searching for the missing Southern Cross.

Lieut. Eaton's party reached the Kookaburra yesterday, but so difficult of access is the region that contact with it could not be established until to-day.

A rough diary written on pieces of the aeroplane's rudder revealed that the two airmen were forced down by engine trouble on April 10. They repaired their machine, and attempted to get off again, but found the run too short.

They were unable to find water and they steadily grew weaker from thirst until they were unable to make a further attempt after April 11.

The diary's last entry was on April 12 and it is believed they died on that day.

BODIES BURIED

It was necessary to bury the bodies beside the machine as climatic condition and arduous journey involved did not make it feasible to remove them to Wave Hill.

The horses of the rescue party had been fifty hours without water and consequently the party was unable to stop to make a run to Wave Hill.

WELL-CHOSEN CAST APPEAR THIS WEEK
IN COLISEUM PLAY

With a splendid double bill of screen and stage attractions, the management of the Coliseum Theatre presents an entertainment of high quality this week. On the stage of the Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch, is a stage production entitled "The Little Angel of Hell's Valley," while the screen attraction is entitled "Mademoiselle Parley Voo."

The stage vehicle is especially well adapted to the clever little stock company, and all the members of the cast give satisfactory performances in their respective roles. "Toby" Leitch provides plenty of laughs with his red wig and rustic attire; Miss Leone Weber, as usual, gives a charming performance; Paul Wallace renders a musical specialty between the acts and Miss Ada Daniels, Miss Esther Todd, Forrest Taylor, Leon Cluff and Lorus Bagley are well cast.

The screen attraction this week is a sequel to that famous picture, "Mademoiselle from Armentieres," and contains several new and bright ideas. It is an all-British production and British beauty and talent are brought well to the fore. The plot is most interesting and the costumes modern and beautiful.

CLYDE COOK AS STREET CLEANER
INHERITS FORTUNE

"Five and Ten Cent Annie," a Warner Bros. production featuring not only Louise Fazenda, but Clyde Cook and William Demarest, is now playing at the Playhouse Theatre.

It is the love story of Annie, a five-and-ten-cent-store clerk, and Elmer Peck, a street cleaner who inherits millions—and also his dead benefactor's valet—who makes life a torment until Annie's cleverness sets things straight.

The hilarious play is a Charles Condon adaptation of a Leon Zuredo story, and was directed by Roy Del Ruth. In the cast besides the featured players are Gertrude Astor, Douglas Gerrard, Tom Ricketts and Eddie Haffner. Be sure to see "Five and Ten Cent Annie."

DOROTHY MACKAIL SPENDS $50,000 IN MONTH ON CLOTHES

Dorothy Mackail, who is co-featured with Jack Mulhall at the Capitol Theatre in First National's "Children of the Ritz," enjoys a "clothes buying orgy" that would delight any woman's heart, as part of her work in the picture. And she gets paid for doing it—spending $50,000 on vanities of dress in one lively month.

The picture is a lively, human one showing life on both the upper and lower strata of New York society. Heading a brilliant supporting cast are James Ford, Kathryn McGuire, Doris Dawson, Edward Burns and Lee Moran. John Francis Dillon directed the picture, which was based on a $10,000 prize magazine story.

On the stage are Eva Gonella, Italian coloratura soprano—in some selections, Helen Greenlee, a danseuse, lately featured with the big musical show, "White Eagle," and Rolly and Ogdren, the well-known comedy team late of Fanchon and Marco circuit. Chris Wade and his Capitol orchestra and smiling Jack Medford, the singing master of ceremonies, also are on the bill.

YOUNG DIRECTOR
SCORED SUCCESS IN COLUMBIA FILM

"Sally of the Scandals," now playing at the Columbia Theatre, is the second picture to be directed for FBO by Lynn Shores, whose youthful look belies his wealth of experience. His preceding picture was a notably successful screening of "Skinner's Big Idea," with Bryant Washburn, which was a worthy successor to the everpopular "Skinner's Dress Suit," and like it was based on one of Henry Irving Dodge's stories. "Skinner's Big Idea," although it contained a delightful young love in-

Interest, was essentially a story of middle-aged characters, with three old men as the central figures. In the midst of his cast, including James Bradbury Sr., William Orlamond and Robert Dudley, Shores seemed a veritable infant and certainly the youngest person in the cast. Persons watching the director at work were surprised that this "boy" should be able to handle older people so successfully, and felt that he must have a special aptitude for this special kind of work.

VETERAN ACTOR
FINDS TALKIES
HARD TO PLAY

Playing a part in an all-talking picture is more difficult than taking a role in a stage production. It is also more interesting.

That is the opinion of Fredric March, who speaks with the authority of experience.

March spent his days on a sound stage at the Paramount studios in Hollywood, playing a featured role in the all-talking melodramatic comedy, "The Dummy," now at the Dominion Theatre. He devoted his evenings to the portrayal of the part of Tony on the stage at the Belasco Theatre, Los Angeles, where "The Royal Family" was running. On matinee afternoons, Wednesdays and Saturdays, he also devoted himself to the stage.

LIEUTENANT TO ADMIRAL
IN 14 YEARS

Admiral Gordon Campbell, V.C., D.S.O., the famous ship commander, who will lecture at the Royal Victoria Theatre, Wednesday, May 8, under the auspices of the District Council of the Canadian Legion, holds the proud record of advancement from lieutenant to rear-admiral in fourteen years. He commenced his war service as a lieutenant and by conspicuous gallantry and exceptional leadership was promoted over the heads of hundreds of senior officers, reaching flag rank in 1928 at the unusually early age of forty-two.

When it was realized that the toll of shipping taken by submarines would, if not checked, eventually bring the Allies to their knees, the admiralty decided to fight the menace by means of mystery ships, old and grimy "tramp" steamers in which guns were hidden and full fighting crews carried. A new type of fighter was needed to command such ships and commander (now Rear-Admiral) Campbell was selected to fit out and command one of the first of these vessels. How his crews fought and the results of the many fights with German submarines is vividly described in the lecture, and the thrilling nature of the narrative is clearly indicated by the fact that the exceptional gallantry of the men under his command was rewarded by the King by the bestowal of seven decorations, including five Victoria Crosses.

U.S. VOCALIST IN BIG CONCERT

The seat plan for the second concert of the Victoria Male Choir opens tomorrow at Messrs. Fletcher Bros. The concert will be given on Tuesday next in the auditorium of the High School. The choir is particularly fortunate in having as their assistant artist, Emilie Lancel, mezzo-soprano vocalist of San Francisco, who possesses a voice of unusual sweetness and volume, and has a delightful personality.

Novel Event Will Be Held at Crystal Garden May 7

With twelve candidates representing ten firms already entered in the personality pageant and floral shower definitely set for May 7, J. D. Lesperance, producer, is confident the festivity will be one of the most outstanding entertainments of this character held in Victoria.

Final arrangements have been made by Ivan S. Aude, manager of the Crystal Garden for the use of the two ballroom floors for the event. A new floor is being laid and will be ready for use for the personality parade, which will be a fashionable one with candidates dressed in Spring styles. The floral shower and other features are also being worked out satisfactorily.

One of the big contributing factors in setting the definite date for the pageant and frolic on May 7 is that some of the latest model automobiles will arrive in the city by then and will enter the grand parade preceding the banquet at the Empress Hotel and the promenade, floral shower, vaudeville, dancing and swimming at the Crystal Garden.

The latest entries include Thomas Pimley Ltd., which has entered two candidates and five automobiles for the parade, a Packard, Whippet, Willys-Knight, Chrysler and Plymouth. Eve Bros. Ltd. have entered a candidate and three different Graham-Paige models for the motor procession, while the Motor House Company will have a model of feminine beauty with personality as her watchword in the contest. This firm will enter three auspicious De Soto sixes, in the parade.

The Consolidated Motors, with its latest model Humphries, will be in the parade, and will have a candidate in the personality pageant also will have A. E. Humphries with four different Dodge models. The best model in the show-room has been set aside for this firm's candidate. So far twenty-three automobiles have been entered in the parade.

Victoria merchants are enthusiastic over the opportunity to express the personality of Victoria in pageantry with the result that the following firms have entered to date: Brown's

New International Agreements On Coal

Geneva, May 1.—The economic committee of the League of Nations, which made an exhaustive investigation of the world crisis in the coal industry, reported last night that international agreements between producers concerning output and markets must be made if there is to be hope for improvement. A similar conclusion was recently reached by experts on the sugar situation.

Congestion of Grain Creates Hard Problem

At Port Colborne, Ont., Montreal Ships Are Tied Up; Elevators Full

Port Colborne, Ont., May 1.—"Worse and more of it," was the phrase used today by marine men in describing the grain congestion here. Ten upper lake vessels are tied up with a total of about 3,898,000 bushels of grain. The elevator is jammed with 3,000,000 bushels and there is no relief in sight. There is a strong possibility of things becoming worse for on the way are four more upper lake steamers with 1,304,000 bushels. No alleviation being in sight, the crews of several of the ships were paid off yesterday. This leaves a host of unemployed men in town, as they will have to wait until the vessels are ready to sail and sign on again.

MORE ELEVATORS NEEDED
Transportation officials had no hope for relief for many days to come, they said. They again declared more elevator facilities should be erected both here and at Montreal. The situation, taken on the whole, is without precedent, it is reported. Montreal has about sixty vessels waiting to unload and only four are able to be taken care of. In addition, the Buffalo elevators are full and 6,000,000 bushels are on board craft waiting discharge there.

INQUIRY REPORT CLEARS BRACKEN AND MINISTERS

Seven Sisters Power Investigation Statement Laid Before Legislature

Winnipeg, May 1.—Nothing in the evidence placed before the Seven Sisters Power Site Royal Commission justifies charges of corruption or dishonesty made against Hon. John Bracken, Premier of Manitoba, or his Government, according to the majority report of two of the three commissioners, tabled in the Legislature last night. The charges laid by Lieut.-Col. F. G. Taylor, K.C., leader of the Provincial Conservative Party, regarding the lease of the Seven Sisters power site to the Winnipeg Electric Company were under investigation by the commission from February 4 to April 10.

Chief Justice D. A. Macdonald, chairman of the inquiring body, and Mr. Justice J. F. Kilgour are the reporting judges. Mr. Justice A. K. Dyson plans to submit a separate report within three or four days. Not because he takes an entirely divergent view from that of the majority, but rather owing to the form of the report did Commissioner Dyson decide a minority statement should be submitted.

In a letter accompanying the 5,000-word statement, he pointed out that the trial work on which he is engaged at present prevented him from being able to report last night as requested.

CHIEF ISSUES
On the main issues on which the commission was requested to report, all three commissioners are in substantial agreement, the report tabled states. Divergence of views, it is explained, was encountered with regard to one of the questions on which the inquiry was based. This matter, regarding campaign contributions to all parties, as said by the report to be relatively unimportant.

The initial four questions placed before the commission, all of which related to alleged corruption and dishonesty connected with a so-called deal or consideration, are passed off in the report with a categorical negative. It is with the remaining points that the bulk of the statement is concerned.

A severe earthquake was recorded this morning at the Gonzales Heights Observatory, starting at 7:51 and ceasing, perhaps only temporarily, at 10 o'clock. F. Napier Denison could not determine whether the disturbance was in an easterly or a westerly direction, but he traced its source to 600 miles from here. If it is west of Victoria, it will be somewhere in Tibet, where news of it will not reach the outside world for many months. If, as Denison shows, it is east of Victoria, Asia Minor will be the stricken area.

PEACE RIVER LINE
There is to my mind only one wise procedure," said Col. Spencer, "and that is to put this line into the Peace River country, thus connecting the city of Vancouver with what is probably the richest in natural resources of any territory in North America."

Col. Spencer added that if the two transcontinental systems took over the line, completion into the Peace River district would be immediately undertaken.

COMMONS ON VOTE UP HOLDS COURSE OF POSTMASTER-GENERAL

Ottawa, May 1.—An investigation of certain occurrences in the postal district of St. John, N.B., is under way, and it is to be a thorough one. The House of Commons, in committee of supply, was given this information last night by Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster-General.

The question came up during discussion of the estimates of the Post Office Department. A few minutes before the House adjourned the committee rose and reported progress, leaving the estimates of the department still under consideration.

CORRESPONDENCE READ
At the outset of the discussion Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, read into the record at length correspondence bearing on irregularities during the past few years in the St. John postal district. The correspondence more reference chiefly to the conduct of W. F. Griffith, junior post office inspector of the St. John district. Letters read indicated shortages had been found in two post offices in the St. John district. In one of these, according to the correspondence, money received by Mr. Griffith as part payment of the arrears had not been remitted by him in full to the department for several months after its receipt. The post office bore the name of Dupuy's Corner. Again in the case of Shediac, where there was another shortage, there was difficulty in connection with payments of arrears.

ACT QUOTED
Mr. Bennett said he took a grave view of these irregularities. There were men doing time in penitentiaries for the very offence which Mr. Griffith had committed, he declared. He quoted the provision of the act bearing on payments by officers of departmental money received by them.

Mr. Bennett concluded his speech on the St. John situation with an appeal to the Prime Minister for action.

P.G.E. SOON MAY HAVE NEW OWNERS

INDUSTRIES GROW
Col. Spencer brought a fresh viewpoint to bear on an old subject. He reviewed the growth of industries in the territory served by the road and outlined the possibilities of development there. He referred to the growing revenue of the Government-owned road and expressed the belief the time was not far off when an operating profit could be shown. There would still remain the fact that the people were weighed with a 600,000,000 burden of debt, he pointed out.

"If this can be consummated, and I believe it will be," Col. Spencer, referring to the possible deal with the Canadian National and C.P.R., continued, "the people of British Columbia, and particularly the people of the city of Vancouver, will feel its beneficial effects in the opening up of an era of prosperity such as never has been experienced before."

BOND GUARANTEED
Mr. Pendray told of the city's action in guaranteeing the bonds of the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal to the amount of $500,000. On this basis the company sold stock on the prairies.

Asked about his own attitude Mr. Pendray said he had not thought the company had enough money on hand to justify the city in guaranteeing its bonds. For this reason he had opposed such a guarantee.

Asked why more grain was not coming here, Mr. Pendray said: "I felt from the beginning that it was a bad business proposition for the city as the company had no grain connections on the prairies. It is no use building an elevator here unless you have some line elevators on the prairies to feed it. The grain has not come here because the company had no one to get wheat from. It had no adequate arrangements to secure it. As soon as proper connections are made, either by this company or by another, this elevator should be a success. The possibilities are still here."

Mr. Pendray would not say that the elevator had not met with the success expected, but pointed out that the 200,000 bushels handled since the plant opened last November would keep it running about three or four days to capacity.

I am sure, is being done. The real estate agents in the city are always willing to handle city properties, and since I have taken office I have found them all most anxious to assist us in every possible way.

BOUND INVESTMENT
I notice that during the last six weeks, transfers and sales of property actually recorded, approximate $1,500,000 and the most encouraging feature of this activity is the fact that a very large proportion of this turnover relates to a high class of business property, indicative of the fact that investors are realizing that Victoria real estate is no longer a speculation, but a sound investment.

"As far as the city's own real estate business is concerned, we have started the year very well indeed. For the three months ending March 31 we sold properties valued $45,955, as against $21,380 for a similar period in 1928. Our other receipts in this department are all well in excess of previous years, and I am sure that our prospects in real estate were never brighter," concluded His Worship.

All grain received here so far had been inspected at Calgary or Edmonton, Mr. Burden stated.

In some cases further inspection was required here. He thought that the grading of all grain shipped here had been consistent.

In a lengthy discussion of grading, Mr. Burden expressed the opinion that when a carload of grain was difficult to grade as between one grade and the other, a decision on this point should be based on the general run of grain being handled in the elevator.

He declined, however, to say whether inspectors followed such a practice or not, stating that he did not know.

"If I were an inspector I would follow the Grain Act as closely as I could, and use my own judgment," he said. He could give the commission no definite idea of the proportion of what he called "line cars" containing grain which was difficult to place in one grade or another.

Mr. Burden had heard no complaints from Government inspectors about the quality of grain received here, although he had heard such complaints about grading at the Globe elevator at Calgary. He said he had never seen a standard grain sample in any elevator, but had taken "an occasional peep" at such samples in inspectors' offices.

The average elevator man worked through his own knowledge of grades and not by standards, he said. As an operator of a private elevator he would mix a car so as to bring the grain up to a desired grade and not past it. Then if the inspector turned the car down as not filling the requirements of the grade it could be unloaded and mixed again.

AVERAGE GRADE
Mr. Burden thought the grain from Victoria ran about the average of the various grades, while the grain which he saw at the Globe elevator in Winnipeg would run to the minimum quality required.

"I don't believe in mixing two grades, it is detrimental to our grain and detrimental to Canada," he said. "A" grade three and four mixed together never made a three."

The practice of mixing, he felt, reduced the general grain standard.

Ultimately, this practice tended to destroy the reputation of Canadian grain in foreign markets, said witness.

CITY'S POSITION
J. C. Pendray told how the Victoria elevator had been erected here with the aid of the city. He explained that Victoria was considered an advantageous elevator point because it could secure Vancouver terminal rates and because United States vessels bound for the Orient could touch here conveniently on their way for parcel cargoes.

An average ship could make a large saving by coming here instead of going to Vancouver, said Mr. Pendray. He itemized the extra expense of the Vancouver trip in pilotage costs, Vancouver harbor dues amounting to $703 and concluded that by remaining here a vessel would save at least $1,200.

from Maiden Bros. of Moose Jaw. Up to date about 150,000 bushels had passed through the elevator, with 45,000 bushels of grain. With the exception of some 40,000 bushels still in the elevator, all the grain had been exported.

Mr. Chief Justice Brown, chairman of the commission, expressed surprise at hearing that the Government in the direction of a higher official in Vancouver. He thought inspection here should be under the direction of officials at Calgary, an inspection point. Mr. Burden could not explain this.

Mr. Burden told how grain was shipped here on the Canadian National Railways on car ferries from Port Mann.

The same freight rate applies on grain shipments to Victoria as to Vancouver, Mr. Burden said. This grain arrives here at the same cost to the producer as if it were shipped to Vancouver.

"Why is there an elevator here at all—what is the inducement?" asked the chairman.

"You'll have to go to someone else for that," said witness, but added that ships coming here saved eighteen hours' steaming to Vancouver, each vessel saving about $1,800 on the round trip from here to the Mainland port. So far, however, this fact did not seem to have been much inducement to shipping to come here.

GROWING BUSINESS EVERYWHERE

VICTORIA'S BANK CLEARINGS FOR the month of April may be taken as a new indication of local business progress. They show a gain over the corresponding period of last year of more than $2,000,000, the figures being $10,367,413 and $12,467,435, respectively. The increase is more marked when compared with the total of $8,935,980 for April of 1927. Substantial gains have been made each month this year over the first four months of last year, the combined total amounting to $6,700,000.

What has been taking place in Victoria, of course, has been duplicated in Vancouver and New Westminster. In the larger city the April clearings last year amounted to $87,237,156, while for the month just closed the total was $111,051,987, or an increase for the one month alone of something like $23,000,000. Considering its size, the gain noted in the clearings for April in New Westminster is equally striking. The figure for 1928 was $3,497,246, compared with $4,545,923 last month—an increase of more than a million dollars.

This increase in the banking business in the three largest cities of British Columbia augurs well for a bumper year. All parts of Canada, in fact, appear to be enjoying a similar measure of prosperity. A special article published by The Mail and Empire of Toronto yesterday, for example, included the following comment:

Spring of 1929 opens with the Dominion contemplating a markedly optimistic outlook in almost all lines of business, with building showing strength and agricultural, industrial, mining and transportation development promising much for this year and the future.

The Toronto newspaper reached the foregoing conclusion from a coast-to-coast survey which it conducted by means of a series of interviews obtained from visiting daily newspaper executives and publishers of Canada who are now in that city to attend the annual meetings of the Canadian Press and Canadian Newspaper Association.

As one British journal recently pointed out, "Canadians, at the moment, are thinking and planning, not in millions, but in billions." It is true that not a phase of business enterprise is being overlooked. The remarkable construction work in the cities of the Dominion is, of course, a reflex of the development of the natural resources of the country. Continued activities may be expected and as new territory is opened up by the railway companies, urban centres will experience additional benefits.

THE PROVINCIAL LIBRARY

IT IS WELL THAT MR. JOHN HOSIE, the provincial archivist, should have an opportunity from time to time to remind the citizens of Victoria of the excellence of the library section of the Parliament Buildings. It should be a source of pride to the citizens of this community and of the province generally to know that there is in that department a collection of books and records unequalled in their interest and historical importance in any city west of Ottawa. How necessary Mr. Hosie's reminder appears to be was indicated by his remarks to the Kiwanis Club yesterday, when he expressed his regret that only a very few people seemed to give any consideration to the history of British Columbia, likewise observing that visitors get a better grasp of this city's history, in the course of a few days, than that possessed by the citizens.

It is unfortunate that this should be so. Originally, of course, there seemed to be an impression abroad that visitors to the library and the archives were not welcome. This was a wholly erroneous impression and it now no longer prevails. But there is not the interest manifested in this magnificent institution which Mr. Hosie would like to see, an interest from which our people would derive much benefit and pleasure. The greater part of the collection of archives, particularly those relating to the voyages to this coast of the early Spanish and British navigators, are the only records in existence. They take us back to the days of the early explorers and navigators, and weave for us a tale of romance and adventure unsurpassed by any fiction ever written. Nor should it be forgotten that the visitor to the library and archives is not left to wander round without guidance. Members of Mr. Hosie's staff are steeped in the historical associations of which they are constantly reminded by everything which surrounds them. An hour in their charge is an education.

It is fitting to observe at this time, moreover, that this province should mark in a special manner its appreciation of the fine interest and vision which Mr. R. E. Gosnell displayed when he founded the archives. It has resulted, as we have pointed out, in the preservation of many very instructive and fascinating records which value may not be computed in terms of money. And as their numbers have increased from year to year, growing interest in them and their significance, which visitors have shown, has imparted to this department of the public service of British Columbia an international importance. It was this prospect which Mr. Gosnell foresaw.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE'S GREAT BID

OBVIOUSLY ONE OF THE MOST striking features of the election campaign in Great Britain is the amazing amount of energy Mr. Lloyd George is generating for the Liberal cause. His speeches sparkle with his inimitable wit and he seems to be enjoying himself thoroughly. His critics are not sparing him and he is not sparing his critics. Mr. Baldwin's claim that the Conservative Party is the party of performance, and his assertion that Mr. Lloyd George is leading the party of promise has not ruffled the Welshman in the slightest. He merely steps on to the platform and asks what the present Government has really accomplished since it took office in 1924. He follows this with another inquiry as to what policy it intends to offer to the people as a reason why they should endorse the Prime Minister on May 30. He has not received any practical answer.

Admittedly Mr. Lloyd George is making the greatest bid for popular support he has ever made since he entered political life. He says he can cure unemployment, and unemployment is an issue with which everybody is interested. It is an issue with which everybody is familiar. The number of unemployed persons has not materially decreased in the last two or three years. More than a million are idle. Mr. Baldwin very naturally is endeavoring to prove to the electorate that the Liberal leader has promised something he will not be able to deliver. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is equally sceptical. But the Prime Minister does not seem to have any alternative to offer. If he has, he is keeping his own counsel. Mr. MacDonald would rely for the most part upon the Labor Party's scheme of nationalization of industry to cure the country's industrial ills. The ground does not appear to have been well enough prepared for such a drastic departure from tradition for this proposal to take root. Thus, to all intents and purposes, Mr. Lloyd George is the only leader with a policy which is likely to capture popular imagination. How far it will influence votes is another matter.

Another interesting feature of the campaign, moreover, is what has been described by a number of the journalistic supporters of Mr. Baldwin as the defeatist attitude of some members of the Government and others in the ranks of the party in office. The London Times, for instance, has been moved to protest against "dangerous despondency" among Ministerialists, while one veteran Conservative has asked Mr. Baldwin: "Is it not worth while pocketing personal feelings in order to avoid a situation so dangerous to business and so damaging to England's prestige?" He refers to an alliance against Labor.

Mr. Wickham Steed, formerly editor of The Times, quotes Mr. Quinton Hogg's explanation of "Why I am a Conservative" as a fair sample of the workings of what he calls the Tory mind. In reply to the suggestion by Liberalism and Labor that the Conservatives have no alternative to offer to policies laid down by the two opposition parties, Mr. Hogg says: "My answer is, that even if it were true, which I deny, and if Mr. Baldwin proposed to go to the country on a policy of complete negation (which I hope and pray he may not) I should still vote stubbornly Conservative and seek to give my aid to Conservative candidates, simply because I think it is better to do nothing at all than to do what is positively pernicious." The panacea which Liberalism and Labor propose for the country's ills, of course, is, in Mr. Hogg's opinion, pernicious.

In defence of his policies Mr. Lloyd George says: "We took the greatest risks for war that any land ever faced; let us take some risks for peace." The question which will arise in many people's minds at this distance from the scene, therefore, is whether Britain is ready to trust Mr. Lloyd George with his unemployment proposals, to cure which he would borrow $1,000,000,000 and spend it on productive works, or whether the people see in the present condition of the country the sort of crisis which only a leader with the courage of a Lloyd George would tackle in a bold way. Meanwhile, of course, Labor is in a strong position, and the Government's majority in the House is about 180.

IRRIGATION PROGRESS

THERE ARE MANY INDICATIONS that irrigated lands in southern Alberta will come in for a good deal of attention in the present year, this following a period of intensive development in 1928 and a marked revival of interest on the part of new colonists. According to the superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway's project at Brooks, more settlers are coming in than in the whole of the past five years, and he estimates that 200 new families will settle in the block this year. Since the movement was initiated for the establishment of independent irrigation districts, following the demonstration of the benefits of this system of farming by the Canadian Pacific Railway on its project, such new districts have steadily been created and brought under irrigation. Increasingly the advantages of this method of farming in that territory of uncertain rainfall have disclosed themselves and irrigation has been the outstanding factor in developing southern Alberta into one of the most prosperous and progressive sections of Western Canada, an area of intensive farming and assured production.

SUZANNE'S FATHER

Rambler, in The Daily Mirror (London)

Pere Lenglen—sometimes called Dr. Lenglen—had a wonderful knowledge of lawn tennis, both as regards its history and practice. He trained his daughter scientifically, marking the court into squares and teaching her to place the ball with mathematical accuracy. No body has ever trained a lawn tennis player so efficiently, and, I may add, so relentlessly, as he. Though he came often to Wimbledon, Pere Lenglen had hardly a word of English, and showed no inclination to say even "Good morning" in any but his native tongue. He was, however, very fond of a chat, and was an extremely interesting old man. I remember his making some strong remarks to me about the large sums of money made at Wimbledon. "And yet," he said, "the amateur gets nothing out of it. What fools we all are." He must have been gratified when Suzanne became a professional player.

A THOUGHT

In those days there was no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own eyes—Judges xii 25. A man's own conscience is his sole tribunal, and he should care no more for that phantom, "opinion," than he should fear meeting a ghost if he crossed the churchyard at dark—Bulwer-Lytton.

Loose Ends

They have a way with them over there. While our policies are tame—Still our race remains vigorous enough for supper dances—The Silent Drama finds a champion—and the world goes mad.

By H. B. W.

THEY HAVE A WAY WITH THEM in the Mother of Parliaments, and beside it our most hectic parliamentary scenes, here and in Ottawa, are very tame. People who complain that our lawmakers go too far in upholding their opinions should read the delightful report in The Daily Mail of an incident in the British Commons not long ago. Mr. Kirkwood, who seems to be quite a lad, "ahook his little fist in a tremor of rage," says The Mail and yelled at a member of the Government: "It's a lie and he's a liar and he knows it." But just as Mr. Kirkwood was shouting "I will never withdraw," Mr. Wheatley, standing behind him, "pulled his coat tails hard and he withdrew willy-nilly to his seat where, having spat on his hands, leaned forward rubbing them together vigorously—an odd Parliamentary picture."

YES, AN ODD PARLIAMENTARY picture not equalled in our Houses of Parliament in this country in many a day. If any member of our Legislature were to say any such things or engage in such personal attacks on the members of the Government, his public life had indeed gone to the dogs. After listening to the Legislature these many years and hearing never a word of real violence, except when Mr. Ian MacKenzie offered to "knock Mr. Pooley as for his good right hand would knock him," which offer was not accepted, I should like to see more of these spirited scenes. They show the enduring vigor of our race. We are getting too soft in our politics. Why the whole House was outraged a few weeks ago when Mr. W. A. McKenzie said that someone was telling a "deliberate falsehood," and even this mild suggestion had to be withdrawn.

AH, FOR THE GOOD OLD DAYS when Sir Richard McBride and old Joe Martin scrambled for the chair of the Opposition leader, Sir Richard finally sitting on a pile of straw. The floor of the House of Commons and said Sir Oliver Mowat, "You damned pup, I'll slap your chops for you." Instead, if Mr. Pattullo doesn't like Mr. Shelly's way of selling bonds like Mr. Shelly's, and many excellent old gentlemen high and low, and even a British Parliament can have degenerated so from the original model at Westminster.

STILL, THERE IS AMPLE PROOF that the race still retains the vigor which conquered half the world, which gave us Shakespeare and Darwin. I know of nothing which demonstrates this splendid fact so clearly as a Saturday night supper dance, which are so popular in these enlightened times. At such affairs, wherein physical endurance is tested to the ultimate limit, you find not only young men and flappers, but a large proportion of gallant old chaps close to their seventies.

THE IDEA at such functions, of course, is to gyrate as rapidly as possible in a limited space, to bump as many other people as you can, and be bumped with the same regularity. While your supper gets too cold to be edible. Three hours of this sort of thing, according to scientific calculation, is equal to climbing eighty-four telephone poles, walking twenty-one miles, or crawling on your hands and knees around the Marine Drive. But the matured minds of our time think nothing of it. They bump and are bumped with an enthusiasm which your young bloods cannot equal and complain vigorously when the orchestra plays the National Anthem. A friend of mine who was old enough at the time of Confederation to know better, hasn't missed a Saturday night supper dance all winter, and he thinks they lurk in the middle of the dance floor to avoid the juggernaut tread of their elders. A race which produces such men is still gloriously regnant.

I FELT SURE someone would rise up to defend the good old-fashioned movie of our father's day from complete destruction by the talkies. A "hard-of-hearing" movement has been launched in the United States to save the silent drama for those who cannot hear or do not want to hear the "mechanical voice of the talking picture." On the other hand, the talkies are being required ten times as long as you do to read the movie captions. In the end, the competition between the movies and the talkies may be a struggle between the two great divisions of the entertainment-seeking public—those who hear with difficulty and those who can hardly read. Well, if the talkies can eliminate the inevitable stout lady who reads every caption aloud, syllable by syllable, we can forgive them everything.

AN AMERICAN alienist has just announced that in 200 years the present rate of increase will be such that by that day he will be locked up as dangerous. This rising tide of insanity is perhaps the most alarming feature of our western civilization and makes investigators wonder whether the human body and mind are of stuff stern enough to endure the life of the modern world. It is pretty hard for a pig and a body which spent 50,000 years in caves to endure the life of a pig in a civilization. Perhaps we have arrived too quickly, before we were ready for it. Perhaps, indeed, we were never made for such a strain.

HISTORIANS TELL us that a streak of positive insanity ran through the civilization of ancient Mexico. Two hundred years from now, when everyone is insane, the historians of this day will doubtless consider us a race of hopeless idiots. Later on, a still more insane generation will regard all its ancestors as a little touched. It would be interesting to know which of us is right.

When the only genius among men seems to be the one who seems to be troubled in this way. The others go on much the same as always. Outside my window in a tree that clings to the wall a brown bird with a grey little head is sitting upon four eggs in a nest which she built in the old way and lined with whisks of horse hair. Presently her mate comes fluttering down to a branch near her and there is much earnest conversation. Apparently the domestic arrangements are perfect, there is no triangle, no talk of divorce, no compensation marriage, and the lady is satisfied with last year's coat. The little housekeeper has a look of complete satisfaction in her shiny black eye. She makes no demand for modern labor-saving devices, but is content to sit alone for three weeks until the famished sparrow is too bad for the sparrow, has never progressed like the human mammal.

The Weather

Daily Bulletin Published by the Victoria Meteorological Department

Victoria, May 1—5 a.m.—The barometer stands high on the Coast and fine, mild weather prevails on the Pacific Slope. Light frosts are reported in Manitoba, accompanied with snow.

TAXATION

To the Editor:—In The Times of April 24, Mr. John Dean appears to be angry with me for something which I am entirely innocent. He says I made "untruthful statements" about his property, and that he was thinking of the effects of his "advocacy" on his own private interests. Now it is quite impossible that I could have done so, as I don't know whether he had a million dollars worth of real estate or none at all. What I did refer to was the private interest of the taxpayer in the taxation of his property. Mr. Dean quotes figures to prove that he owns more improvements than land values. I am perfectly willing to believe that he is quite disinterested and honest in his championship of land speculation. I have never thought of impugning his personal probity in any way, shape or form.

But may I not venture to claim that I have almost as much right to be treated with respect as Mr. Dean has himself. Instead of being assailed in abusive phraseology? I am one of the goodly company of those who would encourage industry, enterprise and thrift, and discourage speculation. I think I referred in a previous letter to the sayings and doings of five previous generations of politicians, extending over a period of nearly two-fifths of a century, on this subject. Their governments were, no doubt, behind them; and I rather think a majority of the electors were also behind them in the good work. Progress has been steady, if slow. From time to time, as I pointed out, fresh steps have been taken. The municipalities have done their share; twenty-six of them to-day collect no taxes on improvements. Even in the few cases where the rate on improvements is levied, it is a small one. It is done against the will of the voters as expressed by plebiscite. The results have been satisfactory and have undoubtedly helped to save us from the devastating effects of land booms such as Florida was the victim of. The policy of this Province has been admirably helped by the other lands with good results. But now we are told, without rhyme or reason, that all this is nonsense and a "fake," that we have been the victims of a delusion, and that the one and only thing of importance is to keep the rate low on land values. The average life of a building is surely more than forty years. At the low rate of twenty-five mills on the dollar it would take but that length of time without compound interest, to confiscate its whole cost. Is there any justice in that?

Tax rate trees or apple trees highly enough and they will be cut down. Tax buildings and you will have fewer and poorer buildings. Tax land values and the land will remain as before and will be within reach of more people. Abolish taxation altogether and appropriate the full ground rent for public purposes and you will, on the one hand, relieve industry of an unjust and intolerable burden, and on the other, open to all men, the opportunity to produce good things and render services that provide interest they should have.

ROTARY MEET AT VANCOUVER OPENS SUNDAY

Two Thousand Delegates and Ladies Expected at District Conference

The annual conference of the First Rotary District, the only international district of Rotary, will open on Sunday evening next at Vancouver. The attendance is expected to exceed 2,000 delegates and ladies, over 1,400 being already registered from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and British Columbia. The attendance from Victoria will be more than eighty members and ladies. The convention will open with a civic welcome on Sunday evening, when Mayor W. H. Makin will address a meeting at the Capitol Theatre. Among the leading speakers at the conference will be International President J. B. Sutton of Tampico, Mexico. Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald of the British Columbia Court of Appeal, and Right Rev. Willard T. Brewster, Bishop of the Reformed Episcopal Church in Canada.

John F. Casper of Walla Walla, Governor of First Rotary District, will preside at a service to be held at the Warren G. Harding Memorial in Stanley Park, which was erected by Kiwanis International. Addresses will be given by International President Sutton, G. Roy Long, past president of the Vancouver Kiwanis Club, and Col. the Rev. G. O. Fallis.

The annual stunt programme will be presented at the Orpheum Theatre on Monday evening, when the Victoria Rotary Club will present, as the feature, a performance of H.M.S. Rotary. The conference will close with a golf tournament on Wednesday.

CAN HEALTH BE MEASURED WITH WEALTH?

A question asked by a Canadian

One of Winnipeg's prominent citizens (name if requested) wrote us asking if he could procure ALL-BRAN in Liverpool and other points in England. If not, he proposed carrying enough with him to cover his proposed trip abroad.

If he had to choose between a million dollars and ALL-BRAN, our correspondent stated in his letter he would "much rather do without the million." Like thousands of other Canadians, he realizes that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a necessity to health.

Many people do not know they have constipation, and accept fatigue and depression as a part of life until they try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN; then they, too, would rather "do without a million" than lose their new energy and keenness of enjoyment.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Eat two tablespoons daily in chronic cases, that amount with each meal. Try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Made in London, Canada, and sold at all dealers.

FASHION PARADE DRAWS INTEREST

Thousands Expected to Attend Personality and Fashion Pageant at Crystal Garden

With the signing up of Brown's Victoria Fashion Parade for the personality and fashion pageant, which takes place on May 3, the success of the floral shower, which is one of the outstanding events on the programme, is assured.

Considerable interest is being evinced by the retail merchants in the pageant. Mr. L. D. Lepage, who is announcing to-morrow several more entries in the great fashion promenade.

Fifty cars will take part in the automobile parade on Saturday afternoon. A car for each personality candidate will be provided.

ANTICIPATE CROWDS

"Merchants see in this pageant an opportunity to express the personality of Victoria," says J. D. Lepage, who is promoting it. "At the same time it will give a review of the latest Spring and early Summer styles. We hope to attract thousands of people to the shopping district during Saturday afternoon, while judging from inquiries received at the Crystal Garden the world and his wife will be present for the grand finale Saturday night."

Mr. Lepage will interview candidates and entries in the pageant every night this week at his office in the Crystal Garden. One firm has entered two candidates in the contest, they are so enthused over the scheme.

KAISER'S SISTER TO LOSE PALACE

Princess Victoria's Debts $165,000; Russian Husband Blamed

London, May 1.—Ex-Princess Victoria of Schaumburg-Lippe, sister of the ex-Kaiser and wife of M. Zoubkoff, the Russian ex-ambassador, is to be driven out of her palace.

This announcement was made by the representatives of the Schaumburg-Lippe family at the meeting of the princess's principal creditors at Bonn. The family, it was stated, will also force her to dismiss five of her six servants.

Portions of the palace have already been let to a university professor and to an instructor in physical culture.

DEBTS $165,000

But the tale of the princess's punishment for daring to marry the Russian Zoubkoff is not yet complete. Her debts amount to $133,000, and she has no assets. She was induced to embark on wild schemes of making money, including the purchase of race horses, and the bill of exchange which she backed to make the necessary purchases has been dishonored.

The princess, for her part, declares that the family refuses to pay her the income to which she has a right.

At the present moment she is in such straits that the legal official who presided at the meeting declared that it was necessary to make her some allowance so that she should not die of hunger.

German Woman Spy Sent to Insane Asylum

Paris, May 1.—A woman described as Germany's cleverest war-time spy and known as the "Blonde Lady of Antwerp," has been admitted to a Berlin lunatic asylum, according to a message to Le Journal.

She was also known to the French Secret Service as "Mlle. le Docteur" and to the British as "Mrs. Captain Heinrichsen."

The woman was of remarkable beauty.

One night she was attempting to cross the Swiss frontier from France when she was questioned by a French soldier and two customs officials. She shot them and escaped across the frontier.

ONTARIO GRANTS MORE FREEDOM TO UNDERTAKERS

Toronto, May 1.—A modification of the present regulation covering undertakers' advertising will be tried out for the next six months in an effort to circumvent the present extraordinary situation, according to an announcement made yesterday by Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health and Labor.

For the Embalmers' and Funeral Directors' Act, undertakers are allowed to publish, as advertising, nothing more than a small, plain professional card. This law, and in particular this clause, was the subject of considerable protest from the press as well as from undertakers, when it was passed at the 1928 session of the Legislature. Nor was the protest without effect for the board of examiners appointed to enforce the act, never has enforced it strictly.

Following a conference with Thomas E. Simpson, M.P. for West Algoma, who is the secretary of the board of examiners, Dr. Godfrey intimated that it was intended to stamp out objectionable advertising by enforcing a modification of the regulation which would allow the undertakers greater latitude.

Dr. Godfrey admitted that the present regulation might be somewhat too drastic. "It is not our intention to coerce anyone," he said. "We shall as a trial. If that does not work out, some other course will have to be followed." Details of the proposed modification have not yet been fully worked out.

Remarkable Fossil Million Years Old Found In Mexico

New Haven, May 1.—Yale University has acquired what Prof. Richard S. Lull, director of the Peabody Museum, describes as "perhaps the most remarkable fossil that has ever come to light," a ground sloth extinct from 600,000 to 1,000,000 years, according to an announcement made here today.

Dr. Lull says the animal is in a most amazing state of preservation, for not only is the entire skeleton present, but the bones are held in articulation by the original tendons and ligaments. There are also several patches of the hide remaining, as well as patches of hair, which is dense, straight and of a pale yellow color.

The sloth was found in Dona Ana County, New Mexico, about forty-five miles northwest of El Paso, Tex., in the inside of an extinct crater of a volcano, at a vertical depth beneath the surface of about 100 feet. Here is a cavern full of bat guano, the accumulations of thousands of years, the guano affording the means of preservation of the entombed fossils.

Further exploration of the passages near the crater and the surrounding region will be undertaken next Spring, the Peabody Museum acting conjointly with the United States National Museum at Washington. As but little of the guano deposit has been disturbed, the chances of finding more specimens contemporaneous with or older than the sloth seem very good, Prof. Lull says.

"One is fascinated by the possibilities which the imagination conjures up of further exploration of the 'sloth pit' and the chance of finding other sloths, together with associated extinct animals, perhaps even traces of human existence, all of which may point to a last survival of the 'true type,'" Dr. Lull said. "Only two other ground sloths have been discovered in which any of the soft parts have been preserved. One was at Consuelo Cove, at the extreme south end of South America, where a portion of armored hide with its hairy clothing was found, together with the claws. The other reported many years ago was at Big Bone Cave, Tennessee. This specimen shows all that any other discovery has revealed, and more beside because of the entirety of the skeleton."

The animal at Yale was one of the sloth tribe, some of which attained gigantic size, having a bulk rivaling that of an elephant. Ours was one of the smaller genera, which, when alive, could not have measured more than eight feet."

The animal was discovered by Ewing Waterhouse of El Paso who, with two companions, descended into the pitch-dark hole and examined the bones. Waterhouse then communicated with the university authorities.

Toronto Gets Hakim, Large Vivid Tiger

Toronto, May 1.—Hakim, a large, vividly colored tiger of masculine persuasion will shortly start on the long journey which will bring him all the way from Calcutta, India, to be mated with Kitty, the brightly young lady tiger now domiciled at the zoo in Riverdale Park, Toronto. And with him will come a number of storks, herons, cranes, waterfowl and other Indian birds as part of the exchange of inmates between the Calcutta and Riverdale zoos.

Hakim will come here in accordance with the terms of a gift to the zoo in Toronto by G. T. Fulford of Brockville, through whose generosity it was possible to acquire Kitty some months ago. Kitty is doing very well, considering her cramped environment and the frequency with which she is in the public eye, but she is young, it is Springtime, and she pine for company. So the call has gone across the seas to hustle Hakim over, so that Kitty may have someone to tell her troubles to, someone to share the beauty of Summer evenings when the June-bugs sing.

Toronto's contribution to Calcutta, in accordance with the exchange just arranged, will be a shipment of Canadian geese, ducks, woodcocks, and possibly several bear cubs. Perhaps the cubs will be missed by the younger visitors to the zoo, but what are a couple of bear cubs compared to a real fierce tiger, that has sabre teeth, and roars, any everything?

CRITIC PRAISES LOCAL SOPRANO

Although it is but two years since Dorothy Letitia Hicks made her debut here, she has since that time made great strides in her singing, both in the volume of tones and the artistry of handling her voice. After a recent appearance with the Vancouver Orpheus choir in Vancouver, the music critic of The Sun wrote of her: "In a two-hour programme, of which every number was well rendered, the suite of songs by Dorothy Letitia Hicks was undoubtedly the best of the evening. Appearing with one group only, this vivacious soprano added several encores before the applause of her listeners subsided. She revealed a delightfully winsome style and a soprano voice of great freshness and vitality." In her Victoria recital to be held in the Empress Hotel Wednesday evening, May 15, she will be assisted by her sister, Beatrice Hicks, pianist.

Mrs. R. S. Foster entertained at the tea hour to-day at her home on Cook Street, when her guests included Mrs. W. H. Rowlands, Mrs. Eilers, Mrs. Fred Eilers, Mrs. James Loudon, and Mrs. A. L. Urry.

Rev. Thos. Keyworth, pastor of the James Bay United Church, who left a few days ago for Edmonton, returned to the city this morning, accompanied by his sister and Mr. and Mrs. George Burrow of Saskatchewan.

Major L. C. Goodere of the Royal Canadian Artillery of Kingston, Ont., formerly of Work Point Barracks, Victoria, has just returned to Canada from England, where he has been on interchange duty at the War Office for the last two years.

Sir William and Lady Clark and Miss Frances Clark, who have been guests at Government House for the last few days, left this morning by motor to visit up-island points en route for the mainland.

Mr. R. J. Cummins of Vancouver, who came over to attend the Pendray-Reid wedding of yesterday, returned last night to his home on the mainland. Mrs. Cummins will remain in Victoria for a longer visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Pendray, Beach Drive.

Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, principal of the Victoria School of Expression, and her daughter, Anne Clemency, a medal winner at the recent musical festival in this city, left for Vancouver by the Monday afternoon boat to attend the sessions of the British Columbia Musical Festival being held there this week.

Guests at the Y.W.C.A. include: Miss Agnes R. Porter, Toronto; Miss Agnes Armstrong, Toronto; Mrs. A. S. Fowler, Toronto; Miss E. Starkey, San Francisco, Cal.; Miss C. Whyte, Vancouver; Miss L. DeLumber, Vancouver; Miss P. Smith, Vancouver; Miss S. Bellis, Vancouver; Mrs. J. C. Hanna, Barrett; Miss J. M. E. Baker, Mill Bay; Miss I. McLeod, Edmonton; Mrs. E. R. Dawson, Penitentiary.

The many Victoria friends of Admiral and Mrs. W. O. Story of Ottawa, formerly of Esquimaut, will be interested to learn that their daughter, Miss Nora Story, recently won a fellowship in history from Columbia University, New York. Miss Story, who is assistant archivist at the Dominion archives, Ottawa, is a graduate of the University of Toronto, an M.A. graduate of Wisconsin University, and is working now for the degree of Ph.D.

Mrs. Philip and Mrs. N. Le Gallais were joint hostesses on Monday afternoon in the home of the former, Newport Avenue, Oak Bay, at a delightful miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Vera Salmon, a popular bride-elect. Two little children, Master Hugh Le Gallais, dressed as a green elf, and Miss Lorna Le Gallais, dressed as a fairy in mauve, carried in a large basket decorated with mauve and green crepe paper, loaded with the numerous and useful gifts and presented them to Miss Salmon with a bouquet of violets and roses and forget-me-nots tied with white ribbon. After the bride-to-be had undone the parcels, she thanked everyone in a few well-chosen words. Tea was then served. The tea table was prettily decorated with pink tulips. Mrs. Salmon poured tea. Mrs. S. Rose, Mrs. Manning and Miss Frances Salmon assisted. Among those present were Miss Vera Salmon, Mrs. Salmon, Mrs. Hiron, Mrs. R. Layard, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Spooner, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. McKenzie, Mrs. J. Le Gallais, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Norrie, Mrs. S. Rose, Mrs. Challoner, Mrs. Bodkin, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Manning, Miss Wilkinson, Miss W. Jeffries, Miss D. Bunbury, Miss P. Salmon, Miss L. Le Gallais, Master H. Le Gallais and others.

Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan, 164 Cambridge Street, celebrated their silver wedding on Monday evening, April 29, having been married on April 29, 1904, at Springfield, Glasgow, Scotland, by Rev. J. H. Dickie. For the happy occasion the rooms were tastefully decorated in a color scheme of white and yellow. The supper table was decorated with pheasant-eye narcissi, centred with a handsome wedding cake, the handiwork of Mr. Charles Moffat, nephew of the groom, who also made the original wedding cake. The evening was spent in music, games and dancing, after which a delicious supper was served. The toast of the evening was proposed by Mr. Alex. Moffat and responded to by the groom. The invited guests were: Mrs. J. Granger, bride's maid; Mr. Alex. Moffat, best man; Mrs. Alex. Moffat, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moffat, Mr. and Mrs. W. Whyte (Huntly, Aberdeenshire, Scotland), the Misses Ella Granger, Anna Granger, Molly Duncan, Eleanor Granger, Mrs. J. Granger, Mrs. J. Granger, Arthur T. Bunbury (Melbourne, Australia), and Len W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were the recipients of many beautiful silver gifts symbolic of the occasion. The evening came to a close with the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne."

UNITED W.M.S. OPEN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Rev. Dr. Wilson Spoke at Last Night's Session in Vancouver; Fine Reports

Vancouver, May 1.—Delegates from all parts of the Province will be in the city from now until the end of the week for the third annual meeting of the British Columbia conference branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church in Canada, meeting for four days at St. John's United Church. The opening sessions on Tuesday dealt largely with finance and appointing of committees. In the evening the guest speaker was Rev. W. G. West, who spoke on missions. Greetings were also forwarded from the Dominion board of the W.M.S. foreign missions committee and home missions committee.

REPORTS ENCOURAGING
A successful year was shown by Mrs. C. A. Wickens in the annual corresponding secretary's report which she gave this afternoon; her summary of the efforts of the five presbyteries and districts reading in part: "Our allocation of $43,000 was no meagre ambition, and that we so nearly accomplished our objective speaks well for the faithfulness and loyalty of our members, the sum of $41,705 being our total income for 1928."

"In the five presbyteries and the districts of Prince Rupert, and Cariboo there are 120 auxiliaries, thirty-six young women's auxiliaries, twenty-two mission circles, ninety-three mission bands, twelve baby bands, eight associated societies and 110 affiliated C.G.I.T. groups. Kamloops-Okanagan presbytery reported a year of activity among the young people and the organization of five Y.W.A. groups. This presbytery exceeded its allocation by $37. Kootenay presbytery reported two new auxiliaries and exceeded its allocation by $108."

VICTORIA'S FINE WORK
"Vancouver presbytery was not successful in reaching its objective, but it raised the sum of $20,349. Victoria presbytery exceeded its allocation by $253, remitting a total of $2,216 to the treasury. Westminster presbytery failed by $42 in reaching its allocation of $5,082. Prince Rupert, because of its great distance between points, is not organized as a presbytery, but it succeeded in raising $991. Cariboo with its two small organizations raised $81.

succeeded in raising $991. Cariboo with its two small organizations raised $81. The combined strength of the conference branch in organized societies is 289 and in associate societies eight, with a total membership of 8,452 including 1,411 associate helpers. This does not include C.G.I.T. groups which have a membership of 1,113, and report forty-three formed in the last year.

ALL DEPARTMENTS BUSY
"Christian stewardship, strangers' department, and supply department, all show a growth in work. There are now 131 strangers, secretaries, and calls reported numbered 23,824. Besides sending allocations to hospitals, Indian schools, mission fields and needy families, white settlers have been given substantial aid through the supply secretary. The department of literature at 410 Dominion Building is being well patronized; the temperance department has become a reality and the library department has been indefatigable in supplying literature including 304 volumes to Rev. George Fringle and 100 books to Rev. E. C. Curry."

TRIBUTE TO MRS. SIPPRELL
The conference took a vote of sympathy for the late Mrs. W. J. Sipprell of Victoria, a former honorary president and also for another honorary president, Mrs. Scouler.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MOTHER PROUD OF RESULTS WITH REGULAR ROUTINE

Mrs. M. L. B. writes:

"Since everyone is writing about their babies, I want to tell you what good results I have obtained through early training, by taking baby outdoors every day no matter what the weather, even during this past winter when it was very cold.

"He is now eleven months old and has ten teeth; has walked since he was nine and one-half months old, and is beginning to talk plainly. He has a healthy, rosy complexion and weighs more than twenty-six pounds.

"He was bottle fed and up to six months he had four-hour feedings and no night feedings. I believe in letting the stomach rest at night. I have been feeding him orange juice, cereal and soups since his sixth month. He now gets whole milk. He loves to play out in the sand, and is always taken for an older child. He sleeps from fifteen to eighteen hours, and I credit this to the fresh air and sunshine that made him so strong and healthy.

"My older child, eight years old, never had a cold. She was also a bottle baby, so there is nothing to the idea that breast fed babies are the healthiest. I feed them regularly, teach them to drink from a cup, and give them plenty of water from the beginning."

ANSWER

Your results are just what ought to be expected from such a sensible and consistent routine. But don't make the mistake of making general statements on the strength of two samples. Comparing bottle and breast fed babies by the thousand (and not just two babies) gives us our figures that the bottle is the better food for babies, and that breast fed babies are on the whole more intelligent, better nourished and develop in all ways more rapidly than the bottle fed baby.

We must not disparage breast feeding even though the results of bottle feeding in your two cases have been eminently satisfactory.

CARD TABLE FOR DRESSING

Mrs. D. M. L. writes:

"I made a nice soft pad for my card table and have used it from the day of the first weak-kneed bathing ordeal until now, when baby is one year old. Because the table is low it is comfortable to sit in front of it and wash the baby's head. It is also strong enough to hold the basket and clothes."

SALES MUST BE CUT

To Mrs. W. O. B.

In order to protect baby from digging out his eyes or scratching his face in the first weeks of his life, we must hand-wave, we have to keep the small nails well trimmed. Sometimes they stuff off, but if they do not they should be trimmed closely with blunt scissors.

Among the out-of-town delegates are: Mrs. James Wood, Mrs. J. P. Westman, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. J. W. Saunby, Mrs. E. Birkeland, Mrs. L. A. Young, Mrs. George Guy, Mrs. M. J. Little, Mrs. C. E. Sonley, Mrs. Hugh Nixon, Mrs. Fullerton, Mrs. F. W. Laing, Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson, Mrs. W. A. Guy, Miss Agnes Spencer, Mrs. W. H. Gee and Mrs. C. H. Walker, all of Victoria.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Club of Progressive Thought congregation, a very successful whist drive was held Monday evening, April 29, at the home of Mrs. Bailey, 400 Burnside Road, when ten tables were in play. Prizes were distributed as follows: First, Mrs. Wilkes and Mr. Ringshaw; consolation, Mrs. Barton and Mr. Barnes. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the game.

At the Church of Our Lord yesterday morning, Rev. A. de B. Owen solemnized the marriage of Miss Lilette Burr, daughter of Mr. William Burr, of Upper Warrington, Surrey, England, and Mr. E. S. Heurtley, of Victoria. The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. A. R. Sherwood, wore a beige ensemble and had to match, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by Miss Hope Denbigh. Mr. Eustace Heurtley was best man, and Mr. and Mrs. Heurtley left immediately after the ceremony for a motor trip to California, and on their return will reside in Victoria.

Lodge Choirs In Fine Concert

To the singing of "O Canada" and before a large audience, the joint choir of Lodge Prince Alexandra No. 18 and Lodge Primrose No. 32, Daughters of England, opened a very successful concert on Monday evening in the S.O.E. Hall. The following programme was beautifully rendered under the capable leadership of Mrs. Shrimpton: Choir, "Curly Headed Baby"; orchestra selection by Ernest Lindley, Roy Strain, Geo. Bridges; choir, with solo by Mrs. Swan, "Funiculi, Funiculi"; song, Frank Tupman; recitation, Mrs. Chappell; choir, "An Autumn Lullaby"; song, Laura White; recitation, Ruth Valiant; choir, "Holy Art Thou"; song, Mr. Swan; choir, "Santa Lucia"; song, Madge Shrimpton; choir, "Going Home"; choir, "Shepherd's Dance"; "Land of Hope and Glory"; God Save the King. Each artist was heartily encouraged. Much credit was due to Mrs. Hall, the accompanist for the evening. A pleasing little ceremony took place at the closing of the concert, when Mrs. Hatcher, D.D.G.P., presented Mrs. Shrimpton with a lovely bouquet, on behalf of both lodges, warmly praising her for her good and untiring work in bringing the choir to such perfection. Mrs. McKenzie also thanked Mrs. Shrimpton, calling for a hearty vote of thanks. Lodge Prince Alexandra will hold a short meeting on Thursday, May 2, a whist drive to follow at 8.30.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

"COME ON, BEARS"

One Mother Says:
My little girl of four, not overly robust, refused to eat her cereal. I devised a "three bears plan." I put her daddy's cereal in a big bowl, mine in a medium-sized bowl, and hers in a little bowl, just as it is in the story. Then when she holds back, I say, "Come on, bears!" You'd be surprised what a difference it makes.

Hope Chest Displayed—The very fine hope chest donated to the Women's Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital has been filled with linens by the members and will be shipped at the opening of the new wing of the hospital. The chest and its contents will be on view at Angus Campbell's Limited tomorrow and until the end of the week.

Dig Kie Moon, Chinese, died at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon from injuries sustained when he fell down some steps at the rear of 544 Herald Street Sunday.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB MEETING

The Women's Canadian Club will meet at the Empress Hotel tomorrow afternoon at 2.45, to hear an address by Edward Branscombe, manager of the Westminster Glee Singers. Mr. Branscombe will speak on "The Community and members of the Glee Singers will contribute vocal numbers, adding much to the pleasure of the afternoon. Further entertainment will be the book shower for the nurses' home at the Jubilee Hospital will be welcomed by Mrs. W. G. Wilson and her committee at this meeting.

TROTSKY, EXILED, HURLS INVECTIVE AT HIS ENEMIES

Deposed Bolshevik Leader Forecasts World-war of Anglo-American Origin

Constantinople, May 1 (By Press-Associated Press Staff Correspondent)—Within the frail walls of a tiny white house on the outskirts of Constantinople paces the man whom so long ago the world seemed to have small to contain. Leon Trotsky, exiled Bolshevik chieftain, partner of Lenin, has lost another fight, has heard the German door he longed to enter, shut in his face, and has nothing left for it but to settle down in his present obscure and hated corner.

Time may inculcate in the fiery, embittered Bolshevik that Oriental resignation which permeates the land of his exile, and the world may yet have the picture of a Trotsky dreaming of the past over a quietly meandering hubbly-bubbly and innumerable cups of thick Turkish coffee. But the present finds him furiously unresigned. Hurling invectives at Stalin, who threw him out of Russia, and the Germany that turned him down, he stares from his narrow window not at the mansion of the Egyptian princess across the way from his little house, nor at the Turkish bazaar on the corner, nor at the barren monolithic Thracian hills beyond, but upon a world grown wild and terrible.

SEES ANOTHER WORLD

He sees, he has told his interviewers as much—a world drenched again in war, a war originating in Anglo-American rivalries, and he gives modern civilization not more than a few years before that war will sweep it into the dustbin of dead epochs. Bitterly he sees Stalin as traitor to the principles of Lenin, principles from which he vows that he himself has not swerved and will never swerve a hair's breadth, even though his life hangs by that hair. With bitterness that almost blinds him, he sees Germany as traitor to "democracy's right of asylum" as his own phrase puts it, and raps out to the press of the world his biting sarcasm. "Germany, it appears, did not find me in a sufficiently dying condition to grant me admission. The point at stake, apparently, was not the right of asylum, but the right of burial."

BLAMES MOSCOW

That Germany's decision to debar him was influenced by Moscow, is clearly his opinion. Moscow wishes him to remain in Constantinople for much the same reasons that he himself wishes to be almost anywhere else. Trotsky has informed his Turkish hosts in no mincing terms that he is an unwilling guest. He might be a Robinson Crusoe minus even Man Friday on a desert isle, for all the companionship, politically speaking, that exists for him here. Turkey, adamantly opposed to the slightest stirring of communist propaganda within her borders, will never allow Constantinople to become a Mecca for Pilgrim Trotskyists, and none exist on the spot.

Intellectually as well as politically, the exile is stranded here because of his ignorance of the Turkish language and his imperfect knowledge of French, Turkey's foster mother tongue. He has here neither the command of the language nor the coterie that made Germany his preferred place of exile.

CONCERNED OVER HEALTH

Moreover, his desire to flee Constantinople is inspired by his concern for his health. While his fight for a German visa was being waged, he instructed his intermediary in Berlin, Dr. Kurt Rosenfeld, to make clear his willingness to submit his physical condition to the examination of German medical experts, as a support to his claim that he desired to enter Germany not for political purposes, but for urgently needed medical care.

He agreed also to leave Germany immediately upon the termination of the necessary medical treatment, he wants to place himself under the care of the same German specialists who operated in him formerly in Russia and in Berlin, and he believes, probably with reason, that the damp, changeable, debilitating climate of Constantinople is aggravating his ill-health. It is certainly an established fact that even husky foreigners from more bracing climes become run down after a prolonged stay in this city of sudden changes from biting wet north winds to sultry southerly and sudden downpours.

STES DOOR OF ESCAPE

Thus menaced physically and mentally by Moscow's planting of him here, Trotsky has been desperately seeking during the past two months for a door of escape. Escape may come through the attempt which he has given to understand he will soon begin to make to enter countries other than Germany. And it may come with a pistol shot, for despite the careful protection of the Turkish police, and his own care to remain as unnoticeable as possible here, the possibility of an attack upon his person by some one of the many half-crazed White Russian refugees in this city, lurks round the corner of his present life.

WOMAN'S $10,000 SUIT RULED OUT

Breach of Promise Action Dismissed By Chief Justice in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 1.—Concluding the trial in the British Columbia Supreme Court here, Chief Justice Morrison dismissed an action of Mrs. Andrea Pearce, West Georgia Street, to recover $10,000 damages from Michael Schwartz, electrical engineer of Chicago, for alleged breach of a promise to marry her.

"The evidence is very far indeed from that character of testimony which is necessary to justify immersing a defendant in damages in a breach of promise case," said the Chief Justice. "The plaintiff has totally failed to make out a semblance of a case. The action is dismissed with costs."

A $5,000 bail bond, which Schwartz entered into under a capias order obtained by the plaintiff, was ordered cancelled by the judge.

A native of New York, giving her age as thirty-six years, Mrs. Pearce, who is a divorcee and a widow, arrived here stated she had written scenarios and had been a newspaper editor in New York and London.

Hamilton Read was counsel for Mrs. Pearce and J. P. Pattullo, K.C., and A. N. Robertson for the defendant.

EX-PROSECUTORS NOW FACE TRIAL

Los Angeles, May 1.—Two former deputy district attorneys during the regime of Asa Keyes here were secretly indicted for bribery late yesterday following Ben Getzoff's appearance before the 1929 grand jury.

Getzoff, convicted with former District Attorney Keyes and E. H. Rosenberg, former Julian Petroleum Corporation fraud case defendant, as the "pay off" man on conspiracy to bribe charges, retold the story he related to District Attorney Burton Pitts following the close of his trial in February.

The indictments were returned in Superior Judge Hartley Shaw's court. Judge Shaw issued warrants for the arrest of the former deputies, whose names were not revealed, and turned them over to Sheriff William I. Traeger for immediate service. He fixed bail for each of the men at $5,000.

Getzoff was before the grand jury two hours. Chief Deputy District Attorney R. P. Stewart presented documentary evidence in support of Getzoff's charges.

To Look Your Best You Must Feel Your Best!

When humanity was young, men and women relied upon the cleansing, purifying action of rain, wind, sun and exercise to keep the skin clean and healthy.

Today—hampered by modern living and modern clothing—your skin pores become sluggish, clog up, fail to do their duty in carrying off poisonous waste.

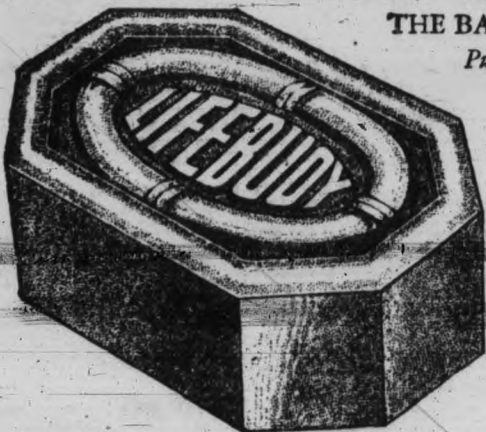

Nature needs help in righting this undesirable condition. A simple, easy, sure expedient is the daily bath with Lifebuoy Soap.

Lifebuoy's creamy lather is nature's own restorative. It does more than just cleanse. Its gentle but certain action opens up skin pores, lets them breathe, helps them to function properly. . . . tired, tensed muscles are relieved, nerves are soothed and you feel like a new person.

Furthermore, Lifebuoy's antiseptic ingredient stands guard as an invisible shield against infection.

Three Victoria Riflemen Placed On Bisley Team

Fyvie, Collings and Regan Will Take Part In Big Empire Meet

Sergeant H. W. Burton of Victoria Was Also Selected But Will Be Unable to Make Trip; Two Vancouver Marksmen are Selected; Toronto Has Largest Representation With Five; Team Will Sail for Old Country on June 12; to be Inspected in Montreal Previous Day.

Ottawa, May 1—The personnel of the Canadian Bisley team was announced today from the office of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association. There are five Toronto men on the team this year. Ottawa and Victoria each has three, while Vancouver has two. Five riflemen, including two from Hamilton, who won places on the team, have been unable to accept and the five next in order in the Bisley aggregate fired during the D.C.R.A. matches last August will go in their stead. The team sails from Montreal on the steamer Montrose on June 12, and will be inspected the previous day.

Those who made the team but found it impossible to accept included Sergeant H. W. Burton, Victoria.

The complete team follows:
Commandant: Lieut. Col. C. T. Chisholm, Toronto; Capt. W. G. Colquhoun, M.C.P.C.I. Victoria, and the following shooting members:
Capt. J. T. Steel, Guelph, Ont.; Sgt. J. H. Regan, Canadian Scottish, Victoria; Lieut. A. C. Carter, Toronto Regiment, Toronto; C. S. Major, A. C. Lucas, Q.O.R., Toronto; Sgt. T. R. Up-Island Ladies Lose By Two Points in First Half of Interclub Match

In the first half of their interclub match, the Uplands ladies' golf team defeated representatives from the Duncan club yesterday afternoon at Uplands by two points. The second half of the match will be played up-Island at a future date. The scores yesterday were: Uplands, 8½; Duncan, 6½.

The surprise of the match was the defeat of Mrs. Eve, present Uplands club champion, by Mrs. Martin. Mrs. Wilding, one of Uplands' strongest players, defeated Mrs. Easton after a keen match. A number of the other matches were also keenly fought.

In the singles Uplands gained a one-point lead and in the foursome won out by three points to two.

The complete scores follow, with the Duncan players mentioned first in each case:

Mrs. Easton 0, Mrs. Wilding 1.
Mrs. Martin 0, Mrs. Eve 1.
Mrs. Harper 0, Mrs. Rotherham 1.

"Strangler" Lewis To Meet Stetcher

Los Angeles, Cal., May 1.—Ed. "Strangler" Lewis and Joe Stetcher, two of the most bitter rivals in the heavyweight wrestling ranks during the last decade, will meet here tonight in their first nonchampionship match.

The best two out of three falls finish bout, under catch-as-catch-can rules, will mark the sixth meeting of the pair, but the first in which either one has not carried the heavyweight title into the ring. Each has held the crown three times since 1916.

Bout Will Not Be For Championship

New York, May 1.—The New York State Athletic Commission, at its meeting yesterday, declined to designate the Kid Chocolate-Fidel La Barba bout as a bantamweight championship engagement, but hinted broadly that the winner could gain recognition as 118 pound king if all title requirements were met. The commission ordered the boxers to weigh in on May 21 at the bantamweight limit, and let "matters take their course."

Mrs. Watson Wins Medal Round At Oak Bay Links

Mrs. A. Watson was the winner of the monthly medal competition at the Victoria Golf Club. The class "A" winner had a gross score of 89, which her handicap of 18 reduced to 71. Mrs. Handman won the honors in the "B" class with a gross score of 106 and a net 70.

HUBBARD WILL DIVE IN BIG "Y" GALA

Washington State Champ to Compete in P.N.W., Y.M.C.A. Meet on Saturday

Seventy-one Swimmers and Divers to Compete For Championships

Max Hubbard, Seattle spring board ace who won the Washington diving championship in the state meet last month, will compete in the Pacific Northwest Y.M.C.A. championship gala in the Crystal Garden Saturday night.

Max is a diver of long standing in Seattle, and has for many years been looked upon as the best man in the Crystal pool. His performance here will add greatly to the interest of the gala.

Beside Hubbard, the Seattle "Y" will send over thirteen other seniors and nine juniors for the meet.

Von Brydon-Jack, another swimmer and diver well-known in local circles, will also swim under the Sound city colors. Von has been swimming for several years in galas here and should prove quite a drawing card in the coming meet.

JUNIOR CHAMPION
Ward Alvord of Tacoma, present holder of the P.N.W. "Y" junior diving championship, will be over to defend his laurels against a dozen other youngsters of high calibre.

From the spectators' point of view the diving competitions promise to be among the features of the meet. The visiting spring board aces are known to be of high standard and should give fine performances. Both senior and junior events will be of the one-metre board.

SEVENTY-ONE COMPETING
In all seventy-one swimmers will compete in the event, forty-six taking part in the junior competitions and twenty-five in the senior.

Six junior relay teams will compete for the honors in the 200-yard race, while three or four will swim in the senior event.

Spokane, Olympic, Seattle, Tacoma, Victoria and Vancouver B.C. have entered for the first event, while Victoria is expected to be represented in the latter race. Seattle intends to race two teams in this contest.

POPULAR EVENTS
The most popular event on the programme is the 50-yard free style sprint for juniors. Twenty-three youngsters will meet in the preliminary heats for this at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Two less will line the tank for the 100-yard junior race. Twelve have entered for the junior 50-yard breast, while fourteen will compete in the backstroke event.

Although there are fewer entries for the senior events, the races are expected to be very keen.

At present, Seattle is favored to win the meet, but the Sound City will not walk off with the honors without stiff opposition from the local squad and other visiting teams.

The local senior contingent will be composed of Ken Dabshire, John Foster, Bob Gordon, Allan Stewart and G. Cameron.

FAST JUNIORS
In the junior division, Victoria has a strong and fast squad. The local team for this section is as follows: Ed Roddley, Percy Middle, Albert Young, Dennis Walker, Chris Usher, Stan Williams, Dick Healy, Rod McMillan, Robert Wright, Chuck Sharp, Doug Gillam and Bill Findlay.

Victoria's teams will hold their final work-out in the Crystal Garden this evening.

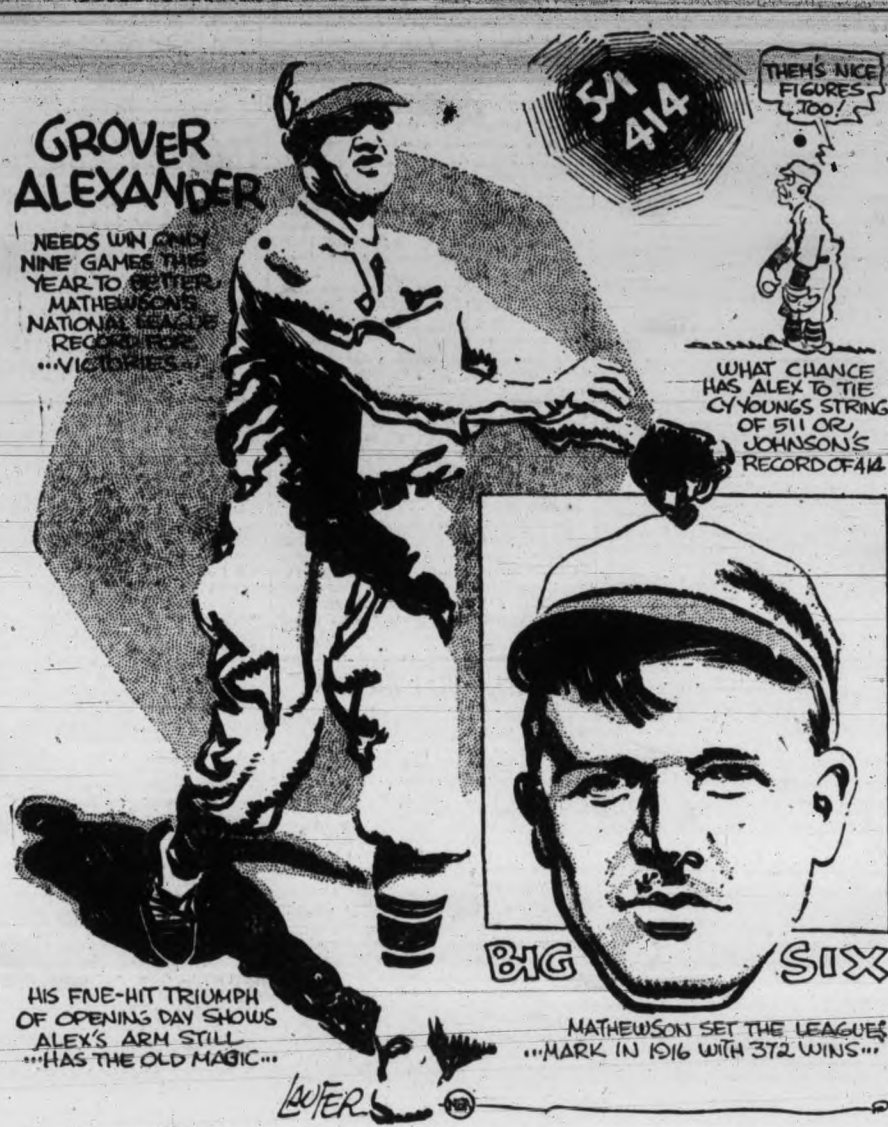

VISITING TEAMS
The personnel of the visiting teams are as follows:

JUNIORS
Vancouver—Jack Jaquest, Vic Boyne, Frank Ross and Eddie Bromley.
Spokane—Bill Shaw, Bobby Gray, Fred Williams, Jack Lambert, Don Orcutt, Charles G. Hunter, Paul Mantell, Francis, Thurian and Carl Drole.
Olympia—Gwynn Hicks, Bobby Watkins, Tom Lynch, E. Roberts, Kent Hardman and Bob Wren.
Seattle—Ken Morris, Wallace Mickel, Johnny Stewart, Ricky Frank, Clarence Page, R. Johnson, Horace McClure, Ted Wendall and Dick Leonardas.
Tacoma—Bob Dallen, Harvey Johnson, Victor Smith, Ward Alvord and Harold Dabroe.
SENIORS
Vancouver—Harry King, Chuck Jennings, Ed Miller, Toshio Yamada and Johnny Sidamur.
Seattle—War Jackson, A. Hudson, E. Thompson, Max Hubbard, A. Boyd, V. Brydon-Jack, Larry Byrnes, Chet Johnson, Jack Reid, George Endert, Don Iben, Terry Thompson, Dave Jackson and Harry Lacterman.

Bradford City In Top Position

London, May 1.—Bradford City moved into the leadership of the Third Division, Northern Section, of the English League yesterday when they defeated Rochdale 2-1. Stockport County were the former leaders.

HAS CHANCE TO BREAK CHRISTY'S RECORD

There's one pitching record in the books that probably will be blasted higher than a kite this season—and the man that may break this record is Grover Cleveland Alexander, lovable "Old Pete" with the St. Louis Cards.

The National League record for victories belongs to Christy Mathewson. He won 372 games during his career.

When Alex took the mound against the Cincinnati Reds in the season's opener, he had won 364 games. He let the Reds down with five bingles and won his first game of the season. Incidentally it meant 365 victories for him.

If Old Pete wins nine games this year—and he probably will double that number unless he breaks an arm or a leg—he will smash Christy's record. And you can find any one foolish enough to wager a bit of cash that he won't win nine, bet the roll and all you can borrow.

Crack Lady Golfers To Seek B. C. Title

Entrants Will Try Out Their Clubs on Monday When Victoria Team Opposes Vancouver Representatives in Annual Match for Hunting Cup; Trophy at Present Held by Vancouver; Eighteen-hole Qualifying Round in Championship Scheduled Tuesday; Marion Wilson to Defend Title.

With the pick of British Columbia's lady golfers entered, the annual B.C. ladies' amateur golf championship will be held next week over the course of the Victoria Golf Club. The tournament will get under way on Tuesday with the eighteen-hole qualifying round, and will continue until Friday when the finals are carded. A record entry list is expected and Marion Wilson, present champion, will no doubt meet some stiff opposition in order to retain her laurels.

On Monday the entrants will try out their clubs when a team of twelve ladies picked from the Colwood and Victoria Golf Clubs opposes a team composed of ladies from the Shaughnessy and Jericho Clubs of Vancouver, in the annual match for Hunting Cup.

No word has been received yet as to what players are coming from Vancouver but it is expected both Mrs. C. S. Sweeney and Mrs. V. Hutchings, two of the Mainland's strongest players, will come over for the tournament.

The tournament is open to all members of British Columbia golf clubs, which are affiliated with the B.C. Association and also to lady members of any recognized golf club outside the jurisdiction of the B.C. Golf Association.

All entries must be in the hands of the ladies' honorary secretary of the Victoria Golf Club not later than 5 o'clock Friday, May 3, and must be accompanied by evidence of handicap as the limit is twenty-five.

To the winner of the championship will go the Flumerfelt Cup, which will be held for one year. The Oak Bay course will be open on Friday for entrants in the B.C. championship.

The complete programme follows:
Tuesday, May 7—B.C. championship qualifying round, 18 holes, medal play; 16 to qualify; flights of 8 each.
Wednesday, May 8—B.C. championship, first round, 18 holes; (defeated eight to form first flight); first round, second and additional flights.
Thursday, May 9—B.C. championship, second round, 18 holes; first night; first round, 18 holes; additional flights, 16 to qualify; flights of 8 each, and special prize competitions. Entry fee, 50c each event.
Friday, May 10—Morning: B.C. championship, semi-finals, 18 holes; first flight, semi-finals. Afternoon: B.C. championship, finals, 18 holes; first flight, finals, 18 holes.

With the bases loaded in a recent San Francisco-Portland game, the batter singled, but no score was made because the ball hit the runner on third and he was called out. One was out at the time.

FIELDING IS BADLY BEATEN

Victoria Fighter Takes Mauling at Hands of Billy Townsend

Portland, May 1.—If Tommy Fielding, of Victoria, B.C., did not have the toughness and tenacity of a well-bred pit bulldog, he would have kissed the canvas more than once last night in his ten-round slugging match with Billy Townsend, of Vancouver, B.C. As it was Fielding took a battering punishment in every round and Townsend took a decisive decision. Townsend fought at 135 to Fielding's 133.

Try as he might with rights straight to the point and lefts that crossed and recrossed, Townsend could not muster enough artillery to dent Fielding's protective armour. Tommy stood toe to toe countering with light lefts and rights and taking a severe body and face mauling. Billy shifted his attack from the body to the head, but to no avail, other than winning an easy decision.

TRIER IN VAIN
Fielding tried vainly to connect with one-two punches that would bring victory but the exception of when he shot a ripping right to Townsend's left eye, that left a telling mark, he failed to score heavily. Fielding's attack was spasmodic and jerky. During the intervals Billy countered with everything in the book. Only rugged constitution saved Fielding from sinking to the floor. Billy scored heavily with rights to the midriff that caused Fielding to double up. The fight was ferocious from the start to the finish, even though the Vancouver lad easily led, taking advantage in the initial rounds. Fielding was game and able to take everything thrown his way and still keep doggedly at it until the end.

St. Louis Looms Up As Serious Threat In American League

Daniel P. Howley and His Browns Expected to be Serious Threat to Philadelphia and World Champion Yankees; Chalked Up Another Victor Yesterday at Expense of Detroit; Yankees Dow Washington; Dazzy Vance Lets Giants Dow With Three Hits and Brooklyn Wins 2-0; Chicago Cubs Fall Before Cincinnati.

Current suspicion has it that Connie Mack is beginning another forced march along the path that leads to baseball glory, but even as the Philadelphia patriarchs gird gaunt loins for the long drive toward October gold the portly form of Daniel P. Howley rises to bar the way. General Howley, for the moment at least, threatens the Philadelphia Athletics and New York Yankees alike.

The downfall of the Yankees progressed but slowly yesterday as the Browns out-punched Washington while the Boston Red Sox hurled the Mackmen. The Howley tribe closed out in Detroit yesterday with a 6 victory which makes it three out of four in the series and ten out of fourteen for the season, and gives the Browns more breathing space over the second place Athletics. Big Ed Morra was too much for the Athletics in game which the Red Sox won by 4-1. The Yankees pulled out a 10-9 decision over the Senators in the ten inning game. The Chicago White Sox won another from the skidding Cleveland Indians this time by 8-4.

The National League spotlight centred upon Arthur C. Vance, who let the New York Giants down with three small singles at Ebbets Field and won by 2-0. Vance fanned seven. The Chicago Cubs again stumbled upon misfortune at Cincinnati as the home team pulled out a 9-4 victory over the last of the ninth.

The Boston Braves, still strange leading the National League with new victories, won two games, won a game from Philadelphia, 14-12, with both teams out on their feet at the finish.

The St. Louis-Pittsburgh game St. Louis fell a victim to rain.

THE DEFENSE COUNCIL TO DISMISS HIS OLD SCORE CARDS AND PROVE HE NEVER COULD ANYHOW!

Her Birthday!

Why not a C.C.M.?

SURELY a girl deserves as much health and happiness as a boy. A C.C.M. Bicycle is a joy to a girl just as it is to a boy. She has always wanted a C.C.M. So many of the other girls have them. How delighted she would be to find herself the proud possessor of a bright, new, shiny C.C.M. Bicycle, a birthday present from her dad.

C.C.M. Bicycles for girls are made from exactly the same materials as C.C.M. Bicycles for boys—and include the famous Triplex Crank Hanger, the Hercules Coaster Brake, 20-year nickel-plating, 3 coats of enamel baked on over a coat of rustproof, and Dunlop Tires.

The Girls' Juvenile model is enameled in a flashing maroon with a gold stripe. Get a C.C.M. catalogue at the nearest dealer's or write to the Canada Cycle & Motor Company, Limited, Weston (Ont.), Montreal, Winnipeg or Vancouver.

Victoria To See Speedy Dogs
Burn Up Willows Track As May Celebration Feature

Arrangements are now being completed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the staging of whippet races as one of the official events in connection with the Victoria Day celebration.

Whippet racing has now become one of the most popular racing sports in England and Australia, and during the past year has been attracting the attention of Americans, particularly in California, where these events are now becoming a firm hold. Vancouver has a Whippet Racing Association, and holds regular fortnightly handicaps over a specially prepared course.

The races in Victoria will be held at the Willows Exhibition Grounds on the afternoon of Saturday, May 25, when Victorians will have the opportunity of seeing America's fastest animals in action.

In their brilliantly colored and specially made coats, some of the dogs will also appear in the decorated street parade on May 24.

It is interesting to note that these dogs are fed on eggs, steak and milk. They are "weighed in" previous to the race, similar to the method adopted with horses. The whippet holding the speed record for America is owned by Jim Mallandain of Vancouver, who is in hopes of arranging a race between his record holder and Percy Williams, the dog having to travel a distance of 200 yards while Percy runs only seventy-five yards. This will give some idea of the speed which these dogs can travel. There will undoubtedly be plenty of thrills for lovers of dogs and speed at the Willows track on May 25.

Old Rosebud's time of 2.03 2-5 seconds is the fastest ever made in a Kentucky Derby.

Big Game Hunter
To Lead War On Season Breakers

Bryan Williams, noted big game hunter, writer and guide of the B.C. mountains, to-day took over administration of the game laws of British Columbia and removed the game laws administration from the Provincial Police.

Attorney-General Pooley announced that the old Game Conservation Board was now out of business for good, and that Chief Game Warden Williams would organize the whole province for game protection. He said that although enforcement was now removed from the Provincial Police, police officers would automatically be officers under the game laws.

Williams said that he would work with the game warden's staff in setting poachers and out-of-season shooters and fishers. He said there was nothing in the way of cheer or hope for in this move for game law breakers, as the law was to be more effectively enforced than ever.

Mr. Pooley announced that there would not be any radical change in the matter of officials employed, although there would be certain readjustment. He said that he himself was an ardent sportsman and as Attorney-General was going to see that the new game warden was backed up by the Attorney-General's Department.

Pharmacists Call it "Joint-Ease"
Because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, etc., but it is really recommended for joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It is surely a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

All druggists dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

Foil-wrapped and protected

Here's a little drama my friend Caruthers recited the other day. "I used to buy 3 or 4 cigars at a time. I'd smoke one right off—one after lunch. By five o'clock I'd want another, so I'd go into my pocket, and perhaps find one cracked, the other, totally wrecked. I said to myself, 'Bill, that's wrong!' So when I saw Tucketts were putting up Pocket Packs of 5 Marguerites, foil wrapped and protected, I was converted to a '5-at-a-timer.'"

Size and Weight Of Golf Ball To Remain Unchanged

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 1—The size and weight of golf balls will remain unchanged, it was decided yesterday at the Spring business meeting of the Royal and Ancient Club, governing body of British golf.

New York, May 1—The United States Golf Association will continue its experiments of size and weight of golf balls, H. H. Ramsey, vice-president of the U.S.G.A., said yesterday, when advised that the Royal and Ancient Club had taken a stand against a change. Experiments have been conducted over a period of years.

SOFTBALL

The Victoria and District Softball Association, which opens its season about the middle of May, is due for another good season, if one can judge from the record entry list of twenty-three teams. This is one more than last year, but officials are anxious that one more team enter, so as to have a league of four sections with six teams in each section.

The list of entries follows:
Johnson Bros., Parfitt Bros., Albion Stove Works, Eureka, View Royals, K. of C., Oaklands, Priors, Hudson, Plimley & Ritchie, Seitch "A," Seitch "B," North Saanich Service Club, J.B.A.A., Foresters, Hillcrest, Navy, H.M.C.S. Vancouver, Antica, Hudson's Bay, Canadian Scottish, Poul Bay and Y.M.I.

The final date for entering the junior and juvenile sections is Tuesday, May 7. Entries for the senior sections may be obtained from Secretary Ernie Stock.

Dr. Arthur Poyntz was elected president of the Lower Island Softball Association at the organization meeting held last night at the Y.M.C.A. of delegates from the Victoria and District League and the Westholme League. Bill Spence, president of the Westholme body, is vice-president and

Lionel Conacher Will Try Hand as a Fighter

Toronto, May 1—The Telegram yesterday said Lionel Conacher, defence player of the New York Americans Hockey Club, has announced his intention of becoming a professional heavyweight pugilist.

Conacher, who held the Canadian amateur heavyweight championship a few years ago, attended the Eberly bout here Monday night and afterwards said he would soon return to New York to make his pugilistic debut. As a starter, Conacher said he intended trying something "not too fast."

REGULATIONS FOR FISHING ARE CHANGED

Drastic Changes Follow Release of New Definitions By Ottawa Department

Drastic changes in the fishing regulations regarding local waters have resulted following the new definitions of the Fisheries Act recently released by the Deputy Minister of Fisheries at Ottawa.

One new regulation that has a serious effect on local fishing is the one governing the limit on catching salmon. According to the new rule a grise is a salmon, and as a result a fisherman is not allowed to catch more than five grise a day, or if there is more than one person in a boat the limit shall be ten fish to a boat.

Another definition in the act that is opposed by local anglers is the rule stating that no one shall fish for, catch or kill any bass from June 15 to August 15 in the Vancouver Island district. These months are the only months that bass can be caught, but the act makes it a closed season, sportsmen say, instead of being open.

The closing of Prospect Lake into Tod Inlet, is considered by anglers an excellent idea, because by considerable expense through public subscription and otherwise fish ladders have been erected on this creek. The building of the ladders makes the fish congregate in the pool at the bottom of them where in the past fishermen caught large quantities.

Some of the definitions follow:
By Order-in-Council of the 21st day of April, 1929, P.C. 560, and under the authority of Section 46 of the Fisheries Act, Chapter 73 of Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, the following changes in the special fishery regulations for the Province of British Columbia were made:

1. The following definitions are added under the heading "Definitions":
"Trotting" shall mean fishing by means of a lure drawn behind a boat or other floating equipment of any kind.

"Trout" shall include steelhead, rainbow, Kamloops, cutthroat and char, including Dolly Varden, Eastern brook trout and so-called lake trout.

"Sport fish" shall mean fish that are taken for pleasure and that are not intended for or used for sale or barter.

Shall include all the waters of Vancouver Island, as well as of those of the islands adjacent thereto, and of those between Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Anglers' Permits—(a) Nonresidents of the Province shall not angie nor troll for nor take any sport fish in the waters of the railway belt without having obtained an angler's permit issued by authority of the Ministers.

(b) In the waters of Vancouver Island and district no one shall fish for, catch or kill any bass from the fifteenth day of June to the fifteenth day of August in each year, both days inclusive.

(c) No one shall fish for, catch or kill in one day by angling or trolling, or by both means, more than twenty small-mouth or large-mouth black bass.

In angling no one shall use more than one rod with one line attached thereto, or in trolling, otherwise than for commercial purposes, if there is one man in a boat he shall not use more than two lines; if there is more than one man in a boat they shall not use more than one line each, which line or lines need not be held in the hand, and except under the provisions of section 31 of these regulations no one shall fish for, catch or kill any trout in non-tidal waters otherwise than by angling or trolling.

LIMIT ON TROUT

No one shall fish for, catch or kill in one day by angling or trolling more trout than will in the aggregate amount to more than twenty-five fish, provided that in the waters of the lower mainland district no one shall fish for, catch or kill in one day by angling or trolling more steelhead than are over five pounds each in weight than three.

No trout of any kind under eight inches in length shall be taken from

Stricken With Terrible Backache "High-rigger" in very bad way until Gin Pills gave relief

To have kidney trouble, when in the heart of the woods during the wet season, is very serious, as Mr. J. F. Miller found out.

But let him tell the story himself. "In the woods, last fall," he writes, "I was soaked to the skin for days. Cold got me in the back. I was so bad the woods boss wanted to send me to the city for medical treatment. One of the boys advised Gin Pills. In four days I was back on the job. Nearly all the boys," Mr. Miller adds, "carry Gin Pills in their pack."

The truth is kidneys are such hard-working organs they can't stand neglect. Backache is only one sign of trouble. Disinfect, brick dust in urine, swollen joints, headaches, a burning sensation attendant on scanty or too frequent urination are others. At the first indication of trouble, take Gin Pills. OPEN CHECKER COURT AT PARK

Mayor Herbert Anscomb
Moves First Piece in Opening Tourney

Victoria's first outdoor checker court is being opened this afternoon near the Rupert Street entrance to Beacon Hill Park, with an informal tourney to follow the official opening. Mayor Herbert Anscomb will make the first move in the opening games, and will be followed by a dozen players, who are to run through an elimination contest until a final winner is chosen. A prize will be awarded to the winner by the city parks committee, under Alderman John Harvey.

The checker court is located near the Mayor's Grove where the tree-planting ceremonies usually take place, and is best reached through the Rupert Street entrance to the park. The design of the board follows that in use at Stanley Park, Vancouver, where the outdoor court has proved a popular feature of park entertainment.

Super-tires at no extra cost

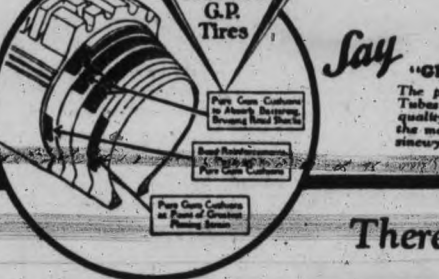

THE terrific strain of modern high speed demands the protection found only in Gum Cushioned Tires. This exclusive cushion principle, built in by master craftsmen, is the secret of the stability of these super-tires. It is the secret of their ability to resist heavy flexing strains—the grinding, and pounding of uneven surfaces. You pay no more for "GP" Tires than for old style tires. Go to Gum Cushion Tire Stations—they'll show you.

RHEUMATISM

Do you realize what causes your rheumatism? Nothing but sharp-edged crystals of uric acid which get between the joints. The six salts in Kruschen will clear those crystals from your system almost at once—and they presto!—the pain is forgotten. After that "the little daily dose" will keep your whole system clean and clear of uric acid for the rest of your life.

"For many years I have been suffering with rheumatism, and although I went every year to Vichy and such places, I did not seem to get much better. For the last five years I have been taking Kruschen Salts, half-teaspoonful every morning, and for the last year or two I do not know what rheumatic pains are."—F. D.

CANTEEN FUND REPORT TELLS OF MUCH WORK

Trustees Show Expenditure of $37,172 For Aid of Returned Men in 1927-8

After disbursing $37,172.54 in relief to returned soldiers during the third year of its existence, the Canteen Fund of British Columbia has assets of $211,641.34, according to the third annual report issued by Trustees Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, Lieut.-Col. W. W. Foster, D.S.O., and Lieut.-Col. F. A. Robertson, D.S.O.

The following points of interest appear in the report:

"Practically all expenditures are for relief when assistance is required on account of illness, death or emergency. No grants are made for straight unemployment relief, although it frequently happens that unemployment is a partial cause at least way applications for assistance are made. For example, a man who is out of employment may have illness in his family which necessitates some assistance being granted, whereas if he had been steadily employed he would not have needed this assistance.

"In cases of death assistance has been given in a number of cases in payment or part payment of funeral expenses. Where an ex-service man dies as a result of war disabilities his burial expenses are paid by the Department of Pensions and National Health; if an ex-service man dies in destitute circumstances and his death is not due to war service, his burial expenses are paid from the Last Post Fund; but in the case of the death of dependents assistance, when needed, is given from the Canteen Fund.

LARGE BALANCE

The report shows that the allotment received from Dominion Government was $251,995.02, interest received to date has been $33,963.10, making a total of $285,958.12. The amount of assets remaining is shown at $211,641.34.

"Under the category of 'emergency' assistance has been granted in several instances to men who had the misfortune of having their homes burned or their furniture destroyed.

"It frequently happens that applications for assistance are made when the necessary help is obtainable from some government or other department source and care is exercised, of course, to see that the Canteen Fund is not used to relieve any government or department of its obligations. In this way assistance is often given in an indirect way without drawing upon the Canteen Fund.

"Up to the present time assistance has been granted to 1,295 ex-service men or their dependents, for whom individual files are kept in the secretary's office. Of the total amount expended in this way approximately 45 per cent has been expended in the cities of Vancouver and Victoria, the remaining 55 per cent having been distributed amongst other parts of the Province.

HAVE NEW FUND

The trustees point out that an act passed last year disposes of money accumulated during the war by units of the Canadian Expeditionary Force in Canada, the Canadian Siberian Forces and by the forces stationed at St. Lucia, resulting from the profits of canteens and other like institutions.

"The proportion of this fund allotted to British Columbia was $13,646.11, received by the Canteen Fund Trustees in December, 1928.

"This is being used by the trustees for relief purposes on behalf of ex-service men who served in the above-mentioned units or in the Canadian Navy. In other words the amount received is available for assistance to members of the forces who did not leave Canada, or who served in the St. Lucia and Siberian forces, or in the Canadian Navy."

Gulf Islands Hospital Has New Officers

Ganges, April 30.—On Thursday evening the fifteenth annual meeting of subscribers to the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital was held in the Mahon Hall, Ganges, with the building crowded to capacity. The Government representative, Edward Walter, was in the chair and told of the splendid response to the recent drive for new subscribers, which will help replace the hospital on a paying basis.

The following directors were elected: Mrs. Charlesworth, Mrs. Easton, Mrs. Purdy, Mrs. Reid, W. M. Mout, T. F. Speed, James Horel and L. Chaplin.

At the monthly meeting of the Women's Institute, held in the Institute Hall, Fulford, on Thursday last, it was decided to hold a May 24 celebration to be followed by a dance in the evening.

NEW CHAMBER BOARD NAMED

The new directorate of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, composed of twelve members, was announced last night by the election committee.

Following are the directors elected for two-year terms: J. H. Beatty, J. L. Beckwith, J. O. Cameron, R. W. Mayhew, Fred McGregor, B. C. Nicholas, J. C. Pendray, W. T. Straith and Capt. J. W. Troup. C. L. H. Branson, S. J. Drake and H. C. Holmes were named for one-year terms.

The election committee is composed of the following: G. H. Stevens, J. J. Hickey, C. C. Ganner, H. W. Bayley, A. H. E. Jones, J. C. McKay and James Mellis.

First Governor of Hudson's Bay Company

Oldest Commercial Institution In Existence Celebrates 259th Anniversary

The oldest commercial institution existing in the world to-day is the Hudson's Bay Company which to-morrow observes the 259th anniversary of its incorporation. This historic event took place on the second day of May, 1670, when King Charles the Second of England, at the request of his cousin, Prince Rupert, granted the charter of incorporation to the "Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudson's Bay," or as it is more generally called, the Hudson's Bay Company, with Prince Rupert himself as the first Governor.

Two years previously, two explorers named Radisson and Groseilliers undertook a voyage to Hudson Bay in the vessels Esqnet and Nonsuch, respectively, their objects being to trade with the Indians and to bring back cargoes of furs. The enterprise was financed by certain noblemen and merchants, headed by Prince Rupert.

The "Esqnet" turned back before reaching its destination but the captain of the "Nonsuch" found and entered the bay discovered by Henry Hudson more than half a century before, and there Groseilliers erected a Fort which he called Fort Charles, where he spent the Winter trading with the natives. When he returned in the summer of the following year he brought with him a valuable cargo of furs.

The success of the first voyage by the "Nonsuch" so pleased and gratified the noblemen and merchants who had financed the enterprise that they lost no time in applying for a charter to enable them the more safely to carry out their plans.

Thus it was that the ancient and honorable Company with its long record of perseverance, progress and service came into existence.

It is interesting to note that, with a few exceptions in the early part of the Eighteenth Century, vessels of the Company have sailed each year from England for Hudson Bay, and since 1728 there has been no break in the continuity.

No more remarkable organization is in existence in any portion of the globe than the Hudson's Bay Company. No company has ever played a more conspicuous part in the making of history, for the story of its progress and the story of Canada are bound by ties so close it is impossible to speak of one without telling of the other.

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST

Though many other companies besides the Hudson's Bay Company were founded in England and granted charters, most of them failed through lack of co-operation or proper management. The Hudson's Bay Company remains as a living example of the age-old law of the "survival of the fittest," fittest not only because of the security of its foundations, nor solely because of the spirit of service which really inspired it and gave it nobility and strength, but also because of its capacity for adaptation to the changing conditions of the ages.

While the Company's fur business is larger to-day than it ever was, and while more of the Company's vessels are sailing the seas than ever before, the Company now operates a chain of retail departmental stores stretching from Winnipeg to Victoria, including the very finest stores on the whole of the American Continent.

Simultaneously, in all their stores, great sales are being held to celebrate the Company's Two Hundred and Fifty-ninth Anniversary. For months, the Company's buyers have been visiting the markets of Eastern Canada, and the United States as well as Europe, selecting vast quantities of quality merchandise, under the system of "Collective Buying," which enables each store to offer its customers the benefits of special low prices. The anniversary sale now in progress offers an opportunity to the people of Victoria to purchase much of their Spring apparel and Spring requirements for the home at very substantial savings. Fresh bargains are being shown in the windows and in the departments each day.

OBSERVATORY MIRROR GIVEN CANDY SHINE

Great Telescope Described to Astronomical Society By Dr. J. S. Plaskett

How rock candy, in incredible quantities, had been used in the cleansing of the giant reflector of the Astrophysical Observatory on Little Sanich Mountain; how the giant glass casting evaded, by the narrowest of margins, being held in Belgium when the Great War broke out, and moments of anxiety, engendered when the reflector was in dire peril as it was being transported to its place in the telescope, were recalled last night by Dr. J. S. Plaskett and Professor W. E. Harper in the course of addresses before the Astronomical Society at Victoria College.

Dr. Plaskett reviewed the inception of the plan to equip Canada with the largest telescope then existent, and told of the support accorded by the Royal Society of Canada and other scientific bodies, which had led to approval of the expenditure by Hon. Dr. Roche in 1913.

Mr. Harper told of the patient labor required for the cleaning, silvering and polishing of the great mirror, after it had been safely installed in the observatory. The eight operations were described, and Mr. Harper said that the Federal audit department had challenged the bills for rock candy used in one of the cleaning solutions.

Other speakers during the evening were J. Duff of Sidney, who dealt with grinding and testing of telescope mirrors, and F. Moore, who discussed mounting of telescopes. Examples of delicate workmanship shown by speakers were warmly praised by Plaskett.

Have you all of your own teeth?

Unless you take preventive measures now, the day is coming when you may know, to your sorrow, that the true meaning of the phrase "artificial denture" is often the extravagant price of self-neglect—false teeth. Here's the reason and the way to help safeguard health against the coming of this day.

Teeth are only as healthy as the gums. And gums, undernourished and under-exercised, soon surrender to dread diseases that ravage health and often destroy teeth. To prevent this, avail yourself of the best care that modern dentistry offers. Place yourself in the hands of your dentist at least twice a year. And brush your gums when you brush your teeth, every morning and night.

But for this purpose—use Forhan's for the Gums... the dentifrice designed to help firm gums and keep them sound, thus protecting them from the attack of disease.

Use Forhan's regularly. You'll be delighted with the way it makes your gums look and feel. In addition, you'll notice that it effectively and safely cleans teeth and helps to protect them from decay. Get a tube of Forhan's—today!

Hollywood's Famous Beauty Experts

advise daily use of Palmolive Soap

"Society here is very cosmopolitan. So is our clientele. We must know all the beauty treatments in vogue on the continent. Among these, the most famous is the Palmolive Soap treatment... used by famous beauties throughout Europe."

Weaver-Jackson Co.

HOLLYWOOD-LOS ANGELES-PASADENA

Interior of one of the ten famous Weaver-Jackson Shops in Hollywood—patronized by more than half of the celebrities of the moving picture world. The Weaver-Jackson Company Shops are known throughout Los Angeles, Pasadena and Hollywood.

HOLLYWOOD, mecca of beauty, listens to its beauty specialists with the same respect that it accords to its physicians.

For in Hollywood, beauty means success, and a lovely skin means more than anywhere in the world. And what those experts say is vital beauty news!

Listen, then, to what the Weaver-Jackson Company experts say... who number among their patrons half of the famous stars of Cinema Land.

Where Hollywood is beautified

"Among our patrons are the smartest, the most fastidious, the most prominent women in Hollywood, Los Angeles and Pasadena. We take pride in serving fully half of the women in the motion picture industry."

"We operate a system of ten distinguished shops which form the largest one city beauty service unit in the world, and prominent among our shops is the world-known unit in the Ambassador Hotel."

"Society here is very cosmopolitan. So is our clientele. So we must know all the beauty treatments in vogue on the continent."

Operators working in the Paris salon of L'Institut de Beauté, presided over by the distinguished Madame Valentin le Brun. Madame le Brun advises all her smart patrons to use one soap—and one only—Palmolive.

"Among these the most famous is the Palmolive Soap treatment. You take this soap which is made from the oils of the Palm tree and the Olive tree. You massage it gently into the face—so (with some warm water, of course) until you see the skin is clean. Then wash it off, still with gently warm water following with cold. There you have a beauty treatment used by famous beauties throughout Europe."

Dozens of experts in Hollywood recommend this famous treatment involving Palmolive Soap! And over four thousand specialists all over the country give their patrons this same advice.

In Paris, home of beauty, all the experts tell you the same thing: Lina Cavalieri, for instance, the former opera star, who now tells the smartest women in Paris how to keep their priceless beauty; Madame Valentin le Brun, the acknowledged dean of Parisienne beauty specialists; Massé, Vincent, Delord et Bion, Payot—all the beauty specialists of note in the beauty loving capital of France recommend Palmolive Soap to their distinguished patrons; and in Vienna, Berlin, Budapest, Rome, Madrid, London—in all the great capitals of Europe you hear this same advice, "safeguard beauty with Palmolive Soap."

Looks Like a Dry Year for City;

Rainfall Now Only Half Average

During the first four months of this year Victoria has experienced only a little more than half her average rainfall. F. Napier Denison, superintendent at Gonzales Meteorological Observatory, stated to-day.

Total rainfall in April amounted to 1.13 inches, which is .10 inches below the usual precipitation for that month. This brought the precipitation since the beginning of the year to only 6.68 inches, which is 4.14 inches below the average fall, according to Mr. Denison.

Householders, farmers and golf clubs have had striking evidence of this lack of rain, and watering on lawns has been going on for some time. It is also unusual for golf clubs to start watering the greens this early in the year.

April was, however, an abnormally windy month, Mr. Denison said. The city, nevertheless, maintained its sunshine record, with a total of 216 hours.
Six minutes, twelve hours above the average. Victorians saw the sun on every day except one during the month.

The mean temperature for the month was 46 degrees, the highest being 60 degrees on April 23 and the lowest 33 on April 4.

Hogg To Retire From Bank

After 51 Years' Service;

Chesterton To Succeed Him

The Bank of Montreal to-day announced the appointment of C. W.
Chesterton, dist. pt. superintendent of Alberta, to be district superintendent of British Columbia branches, with headquarters at Vancouver. Mr. Chesterton will succeed W. H. Hogg, who, after fifty-one years' service in the Bank of Montreal, is shortly to retire.

Mr. Chesterton is a native of Ottawa, and received his education in Winnipeg. He entered the service of the Bank of Montreal at Rossmore, B.C., in 1880, and after being attached to the Vernon, Greenwood, Vancouver and Lethbridge branches, he was transferred in 1905 to Winnipeg. One year later he was appointed assistant manager at Indian Head branch. He returned to Winnipeg two years later as asst.-t. accountant. In the following year he was transferred to the bank office of the Bank of Montreal, and then to St.
John, N.B., as accountant. Later he served as accountant in the branches at Port Arthur and Toronto. In 1912 he was appointed assistant manager of the Port Arthur branch, and a few months later was again attached to head office as inspector of the Ontario branches. In December, 1914, Mr.
Chesterton returned to British Columbia as joint manager of the New Westminster branch, being later made manager at that office.

On the opening of a superintendency in Saskatchewan early in 1922

Mr. Chesterton was placed in charge of the Saskatchewan branches with headquarters at Regina. The following year he proceeded to Calgary as superintendent, and he has occupied this position up to the date of his present appointment.

It is interesting to note that Mr.
Chesterton is a member of the family of F. B. Hamilton Ramsay, who was a resident of the Okanagan Valley for many years later moving to Chilliwack.

Mr. Hogg, whom he succeeds, is one of the best known and most respected business men in Vancouver, with a wide circle of acquaintances throughout Western Canada. He was for years manager of the important branches at Regina and Calgary respectively, and was transferred from the latter office to the management of the Vancouver branch in 1913. Thus he has served the bank in Vancouver for sixteen years, the past ten years of which as superintendent of British Columbia branches.

McKENZIE ORDERS
AIR SEARCH FOR NEW B.C. ROUTE

Prince Rupert to Get Highway to Interior, Minister Announces

To discover a route for a northern highway east from Prince Rupert to the interior of British Columbia through the defiles of the Coast Range, the B.C. Government this year will use aeroplanes to reconnoitre and photograph the whole area thoroughly. Hon. W. A. Mc-Kenzie, Minister of Mines and Acting Minister of Public Works, announced to-day on his return from a tour of investigation in the northern districts of the Province.

W. K. Gwyer, railway locating engineer and noted pass finder, will have charge of the exploration.

Mr. McKenzie was accompanied on his tour by Hon. R. W. Bruhn, president of the council.

They went to Hazelton to consider the location of the new bridge across the Bulkley River, to take the place of the Shaguelgate Bridge, which has been condemned.

A suspension bridge is to be built across Copper River on the new road between Copper River and U.S., which will be completed this year.

Mr. McKenzie said that he had also discovered that some of the areas around Prince George positively need road building this year, as there are many settlers who have no means of transport to the centres in case they need medical attention.

Rousing Reception Assured University Players To-night

Pay To-day, Said Tragic Verse; And He Must Pay $300

The B.C. University Players are assured of a rousing reception when the curtain rises for their performance of the inimitable comedy, "Rollo's Wild Out," in the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night. Those who have witnessed the talented college players in their latest production are most enthusiastic in their praise of the student artists, and compare them favorably with the practised professional.

The Victoria Kiwanis Club, which is sponsoring the performance, anticipates a full house and those who intend to be present but have not secured seats are advised to come early. It is expected that the student section of the community will be well represented in the audience, several groups having already made reservations.

The performance is under the patronage of His Honor, R. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, and Miss Mackenzie, and Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education.

COYNE PLAYERS LEAVE CANADA

British Company, Unable to Secure Theatrical Bookings, Returning to Orient

Fred Coyne Advocates Chain of Municipal Theatres Here

Fred Coyne and his company of British players known as the Coyne Musical Comedy Company are leaving Victoria to-day for Japan with mixed feelings.

Circumstances prevent them from carrying out their announced intention, when they arrived here on the Mahama Maru, a few weeks ago, of playing Canada en route to Great Britain. The members of the company, seven in number, are all first-class artists who set out from England last year on a "barnstorming" tour of the world.

"They played to large houses in cities of South Africa, India, the Malay States, Siam, China and Japan and after a particularly successful run in the Kingdom of the Mikado came on to Victoria to try their luck in Canada."

"It has been impossible to secure bookings through Canada so we have decided to return the way we came," said Fred Coyne at the Dominion Hotel prior to his departure by the Shidzuka Maru to-day for the Orient.

"We were unable to make satisfactory arrangements to play over the chain of theatres in this country and as we have no desire to merely watch the scenery in Canada, there is no alternative but to return home via the Orient."

"We have played in many lands since the tour commenced and this is the only country where we have met with any difficulty," said Mr. Coyne.

"What you ought to have in Canada is a chain of municipal theatres as in New Zealand so that enterprising travelling companies can be assured the rental of a theatre for performances without restrictions or limitations," he argued.

Immigration regulations requiring the putting up of a bond could have been overcome, said Mr. Coyne, had it been possible to secure theatre bookings. For some weeks the company filled an engagement in Victoria and has since played Vancouver Island. The players were well received on their return and he is convinced that he can do better over there financially than on this continent.

Sergt. Heatley Of City Police Bereaved

The death occurred at an early hour Wednesday morning at her residence, 3172 Levin Street, Saanich, of Mrs. Mary Kay Heatley, aged seventy-six years, relict of the late Thomas Heatley of Edinburgh, Scotland. Mrs. Heatley was born in Scotland and had resided in the Province for eight years. She is mourned by three daughters, Miss Charlotte Heatley, at home; Mrs. Robert Wilson, of Berwick-on-Tweed, and Mrs. Frank Burns of Edinburgh, Scotland; also two sons, Sergt. Thomas Heatley of the Victoria City Police and William Heatley of Regina, Sask. One son, John, was killed overseas in the Great War. The remains are resting at McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

REAL ESTATE BOARD REVIEWS YEAR'S WORK

Much Activity Awaits Realty Board, Says Retiring President

Stewart G. Clark Installed as President at Luncheon Meeting

A review of important achievements by the Real Estate Board of Victoria during the last year, a recommendation that the board campaign for changes in the basic taxation system of the city and advocacy of more public parks and playgrounds, featured the address of Major Cuthbert Holmes, retiring president, at the annual luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board of Victoria, held this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce.

The following officers for the coming year were installed after the luncheon: President, Stewart G. Clark; first vice-president, Robert Musgrave; second vice-president, Major M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett; secretary, Hubert Lethaby (re-elected); executive (including the above), Joseph Bridgman, Alfred Carmichael, James Forman, R. H. B. Ker, Major H. C. Holmes and A. R. Wolfenden. T. J. Goodlake was elected auditor by the meeting.

The luncheon was attended by Major Anscomb and Reeve William Crouch of Saanich.

Major Holmes reported an increased associate membership, which now included every bank manager, a number of architects and other important citizens. "A properly organized board of property owners has the best chance they have of helping themselves out of many troubles and provides permanent, efficient and inexpensive machinery for doing so. This fact is being recognized across the continent," he said.

"I think you would wish to have recorded in your annual report your deep feeling of loss and in many cases of personal grief, at the death of three members, Frank Burrell, L. U. Conyers and Major J. H. Gillespie."

The report showed the board had been successful in securing changes at the City Hall in the method of charging for water. The Register of Titles had agreed to make changes favor the board. Improved interim receipt forms issued by the board are now in use and a strong committee had been taken up with officials such as questions as fairer taxation and assessment.

"Important resolutions on such subjects as the preservation of scenic timber, better parks, cleaner beaches and additional open air co-operatives have been passed after thorough investigation and have met with much public support, if not always with official favor. Speaking of official favor or disfavor, we recorded with apologies early in 1928 a resolution on aldermanic salaries, but the shadow we were afraid of them has since become substantial," commented Mr. Holmes.

MANY ADDRESSES

Luncheon speakers had included Alderman H. O. Litchfield on industrial developments; R. F. Blanton on Oak Bay finances; Frank Gloim on public utility work; J. R. Scoby on grain financing; D. A. MacDonald on Victoria finances; James Fawcett on Victoria assessments; Hon. F. Burdett on Provincial lands; H. D. Patterson on maintaining values in business districts; C. C. Pemberton on the B.C. watershed, timber, and Major Spurgeon on bridge paths. F. Landsberg and A. R. Wolfenden also gave the board valuable addresses on fluctuating values in Victoria and business rentals in Victoria respectively.

CO-OPERATION URGED

"I feel that only good can result from closer co-operation between this board and the various municipal councils. I doubt if council realize the number of heavy taxpayers who are members of this board or the very large number of taxpayers who are represented by members of this board," he said.

NEW TAX BASIS

"The board has much work before it. The system of land assessment and taxation has failed to stop speculation which was supposed to be its greatest and probably only virtue. It has succeeded in confiscating the property of thousands of individuals. I venture to believe we can improve matters greatly by gradually working toward a low maximum rate on fair capital values together with a fluctuating rate on rental values," Major Holmes suggested.

MORE PARKS

"In civic affairs I think the outstanding matter in which this board should move is that of open spaces, especially local and school playgrounds. This peninsula is obviously going to be thickly inhabited. The time to set aside a few playground lots in each few blocks is now, when the municipalities own much land or can obtain it very cheaply."

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Hubert Lethaby, secretary, reported that the board held twenty-four luncheon meetings during the year, with an average attendance of twenty members. Twenty-six guests had attended during the year.

Executive meetings had been well attended, an average of seven of the nine directors being present at the eleven sessions held.

Thirty-six active members were now enrolled, with twenty-seven associate members and seven salesmen members, a total membership of seventy, which was a slight improvement over the preceding years.

The deficit of 1927 had been converted into a small surplus, and a further improvement during the year was forecasted by Mr. Lethaby.

The convention of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate Association, held here last year, had returned a profit which had been placed in a special account.

Mr. Lethaby regretted that the National Association had not accorded Canadian boards a special rate of $100 for affiliated membership, and referred to the withdrawal of the Victoria Board from the National Association. He hoped that, if this attitude were changed, the Victoria Board would resume membership in the national organization.

By order-in-council John S. Morgan has been created a justice of the peace in Lower Nicola.

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

Allison said nothing, but looked sympathetic. As she was about to draw her mending basket towards her, Beatrice gently pushed her back and took up the thimble and the darned needle.

"I'll do that. Mechanical exercise is excellent for ragged nerves, and I'm a good darning. Sit back, old woman, and let me look at you."

Allison did not demur. She was quite glad to be idle, and it was not the first time she had sampled Beatrice Heron's practical help in affairs of the house and family.

"I loathe these men in the house, Allison, though poor little Melkie in his anecdotalism is quite harmless. But I don't consort with them except under severe compulsion, occasionally for a few minutes at night. I must admit that Willie is a beautiful musician. He can play you under a spell in about five minutes. You know how Ida loves music, but I'm afraid I don't at all like the atmosphere for her."

"But—but I think she's engaged to Jimmy," Allison blurted out.

"Do you really think so? Very doubtful, I should think," she said, shaking her head.

"They've come to some kind of an understanding, because Jimmy as good as told me so. It was that Saturday after your father's funeral. Do you remember them going for a walk out Granton way?"

"Of course I remember perfectly, but Ida never said a word."

"Neither did Jimmy for that matter, but I put two and two together and went off to Glasgow as happy as a king."

Beatrice sighed a little.

"It would be lovely, and I hope it will come off, Allison, for Jimmy's a perfect dear, and he'll get on. It's only a question of time about his reputation. He's got the head of a genius, ever noticed his resemblance to Burns?"

"Oh, often. When I want to tease him I call him Bobby B., and he has turned out some quite pretty verses. I dare say he sends them to Ida in his letters."

"That may safeguard her, then, but she's very susceptible, you know, and I've caught Willie looking at her in a way which raised the very devil in me. You know how the Germans regard women?"

"I was in a school there for a year," said Allison demurely, "so I know a good deal."

"Then there's the proximity. The man on the spot has the advantage every time, but I didn't come to talk about Ida to-night, Allison, but to tell you something that happened to me to-day."

Instantly Allison was all eyes and ears.

she was intensely interested in her friend's experiment, though not as yet satisfied that it had in it the elements of success. She had cherished a kind of hero-worship for Beatrice Heron, and frequently deaved the minister with prognostications regarding her future, starting from the premise that she was by nature fitted to adorn any station, particularly the highest.

And it had been a "downcome" to use the homely Scots expression, to hear that she had voluntarily elected to convert herself into a dressmaker at the beck and call of whoever happened to have the full purse.

"Tell me quick. You're always interesting, you know, Bee, whatever you talk about."

"Am I, Allison? I don't think that. I'm really a dull person; Lotta thinks I'm socially impossible."

"Oh, that! Well, never mind. Tell me what happened."

"I had a visit from John Brodie."

"John Brodie!" said Allison in a puzzled voice; "you mean old Compton Brodie's son?"

"Yes, the elder one who is out in the Straits Settlements filling some sort of administrative post."

"Well, what does he look like, and what did he want?"

"His looks are all right. He is the kind of man you would like, Allison, no frills, very straight and sincere. I went out to tea with him at the Rorford Hotel."

"Mercy me, did you; what a condescension. He must have appealed to you somehow."

"It wasn't a question of that. I simply couldn't escape. He's a very quiet, determined kind of person, and he wanted to thresh out our liability for the catastrophe which has changed the world for me at least."

"That's his views, then? I seem to have heard, though I couldn't tell you from what source, that he never got on well with his father, and that he took the first loophole of escape from Scotland."

"That is true. He told me that much, and he only learned from newspapers out there how his father died. You see, that old cabled, and he left before he could get particulars in a letter."

"It was rather awful for him! Does he seem to feel it?"

"Oh, yes, and he is going to make himself responsible for atonement."

"Rather fine, don't you think, Bee?"

Beatrice kept her eyes steadily on a very large hole in David Grier's stocking and made no answer for a full minute.

"We had a long talk over everything, and he thinks with me that it is a scandal that his mother should be going on at Linnorrie exactly as if nothing had happened."

"She must live somewhere, poor thing," said Allison, who had never met Mrs. Brodie. "And what does he suggest?"

"Oh, she's leaving Linnorrie and Scotland. She was only waiting till her son came home. She wants to tell it."

"The only thing to do, obviously."

"But he doesn't want her to tell it. I can't think why, can you, Allison?"

"He can't possibly have any associations such as you have with the place and if he was not happy at home, a mere house where his people had lived for a while could not appeal to him."

"That's what I think, but of course I didn't encourage him to speak about it."

"But you listened, apparently, to what he had to say."

"Oh, yes, it interested me up to a point. He wants to enter into a kind of partnership with me about this atonement business. He asked me point-blank my reasons for going into business and, when he heard them, proposed that we should co-operate to pay up the shareholders."

"Well, why not, it's a fine ideal, surely?"

"I don't want to do it, Allison," said Beatrice very firmly, and as her wool knotted at the moment she broke it off rather viciously. "Why can't he work away at his own share of the atonement business, and leave me to look after my father's memory? That's all that concerns me, really."

Allison said neither yes nor nay, but inwardly pondered on the unusual perturbation her friend was exhibiting, in spite of all her efforts to cover it up.

"It's awfully interesting any way you like to look at it, Beatrice. You and Compton Brodie's son! I just can't get over it! What is he like, good looking?"

"I suppose so, tall and serious looking. I'm rather sorry now that I went out to tea with him. It sort of opens the door to other things. I think I won't see him again."

Beatrice spoke in rather a low voice, with her eyes fixed on the fire.

"I see no reason why you shouldn't meet and talk over things, especially as you rather liked him."

"I want to be done with the name of Brodie, Allison," said Beatrice, and her eyes stared stormily.

"Oh, but that sounds like visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children, my dear. I'm sure you're far too honest and fair-minded a person to do that. Besides, I won't let you."

Beatrice's lips stirred in the faintest smile.

"I don't just see how you could prevent me, but he won't be here long. It's a special leave. He talks of leaving Scotland inside of a fortnight."

"It seems a long way to come for such a short time. Did he come from Singapore?"

"I didn't ask, but suppose that he did. Anyhow, he would have to come there to get his boat, wouldn't he? I'm very hazy about the Straits Settlements. I think I must read it all up in poor father's Chambers's Encyclopedia."

"Did you tell them at home?"

"No, and I don't think I will. Lotta has very little sense about people and I don't think it would interest Ida very much."

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BOVRIL HEAD SHOWS USE OF ADVERTISING

At the thirty-second annual general meeting of Bovril Limited, held recently at the Pines House, Finsbury Circus, London, this is what the chairman, Sir George Lawson Johnston, said in his speech about the value of advertising.

"It is not exactly how much you spend on advertising that counts—any one can waste money on it—but how effective you are. Bad advertising is a waste of money; the advertiser, and the papers must appreciate people who can advertise well enough to get results; if profits are not earned, the advertiser cannot last. Probably the most certain way to waste money is to attempt to advertise a bad article. If your produce does not advertise itself to the consumer and his friends once he has used it, your advertising expenditure is not likely to be very lucrative."

"In a competition recently promoted by one of our papers to encourage amateur advertisers, no fewer than 3,600 entries for Bovril advertisements were sent in. Some of the suggestions we have used in our publicity work, some we have not, although they have given us a good deal of private amusement. One suggestion, accompanied by an appropriate sketch, showed a Bovril bottle knocking the letter 'L' out of the word 'influenza.' Another design depicted Samson reclining in his tent asleep with Delilah standing beside him holding a large bottle of Bovril in her hand, listening to the voice of a Philistine outside urging her to 'leave his hair, Delilah, but take his Bovril.'"

"Twenty thousand pounds has again been allocated to staff pension fund purposes—a somewhat smaller amount going to the older contributors' fund, and a somewhat larger amount to the general fund, than was the case last year."

Smart Doings of Animals

Dog Sets His Own Punishment

W. N. Rogers of Middletown, N.Y., formerly had a collie named Rex. The dog was never whipped, since that might break his spirit, but sometimes when he had been guilty of wrong doing was shut up in a large dark closet.

One day Rex disobeyed his master by going to the state armory, which was a place forbidden to him. He was sent home as soon as he reached there. He went straight to the closet, although no one had told him to do so. Entering, he pulled the door as tight as he could and punished himself by remaining in the dark several hours.

The Goofygoon picked up in speed. Said he, "You Tumbies won't need to worry now, much longer. We will soon be on the ground. I see the earth not far below, and that is where we're going to go. I'll fly around until a real nice landing place I've found."

"All right," said Scooty. "Hip, hurrah! We'll do whatever you may say. But kindly make our landing quick. My arms are all tired out."

"Mine too," snapped Clowdy. "That's not all. I'm just about all set to fall, but I just guess I'll hold my tongue, 'cause I don't like to pout."

They kept on sailing through the air. The big bird dipped down here and there and suddenly it swooped low, and shouted, "Ah! That's grand. I see a clear place, nice and green, and my, but it's a pretty scene. There never was a better place for me to try and land."

He dipped for all that he was worth and shortly touched his feet to earth. "We're landed," shouted Carpy. "Oh, what a wonderful relief. I didn't know that I was strong enough to grip that bird so long. But now we've come to safety, when I feared we'd come to grief."

When they had walked around a bit, and once again were feeling fit, wee, Cappy said, "Let's search now for our cabin. It's nearby. I'm sure of that because I know that when it dropped I saw it go, and we were just above here when it toppled from the sky."

They started searching far and near. The Goofygoon then cried, "It's here! I've found your little cabin and it's smashed to fragments now." And sure enough, he was quite right. The cabin was a sad, sad sight. "We can't rebuild it," Clowdy cried, "cause none of us know how."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's May Dance

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily, who had come down rather late to his breakfast one morning, looked around wondering as he saw his little rabbit girls hopping out of the bungalow all with new ribbons on their ears.

"What is going on?" asked Uncle Wiggily as Nurse Jane helped him to some more clover marmalade. "Why are the children so gaily dressed? And some have flowers, too?" he added as he saw Jingle and Jangle each with a bouquet of daisies and buttercups. "Is there a circus parade?" asked Mr. Longears.

"No," answered Nurse Jane. "This is May day—the first of May, you know, and there is to be a little dance at the Hollow Stump School. The Lady Mouse Teacher asked the boy and girl animals to bring flowers, and wear bright ribbons for the May dance."

"She didn't ask any of the boy animals to wear bright ribbons, did she?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know with a twinkle of his pink nose.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Nurse Jane. "No, indeed! But she told the boys to put on bright neckties and polish their shoes and I think most of them did. At any rate there they go, off to school, looking as bright as a lot of new pennies."

"So they do! So they do!" murmured Uncle Wiggily as he went on eating his breakfast.

"Say, look here!" suddenly exclaimed the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Tra, la, la!" sang the rabbit.

"What's the matter?" quickly asked the rabbit. "Don't tell me you see the Skilley Scallery Alligator coming?" He picked up the sugar bowl to throw at the Bad Chap.

"No, indeed!" laughed Nurse Jane. "But I was just thinking that it would do you good to have a May dance! Why don't you go to the Hollow Stump School and dance with the Lady Mouse Teacher?"

"Oh, I'm too old!" said Uncle Wiggily, bashful like and blushing.

"Nonsense!" exclaimed Miss Puszy. "You're dancing around. Go on!"

"I'll think about it!" was all Uncle Wiggily would say as he went on eating his breakfast.

When he had finished and had hopped off over the fields and through the woods to look for an adventure he thought more and more about the May dance that the animal boys and girls were going to have at school that day.

"I wonder if I am too old to have a May dance myself?" whispered Uncle Wiggily. "I don't feel old, but when I think how many bedtime stories have

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1929

Good and evil aspect contend to-day, according to astrology, and the wise will be careful in all important matters.

While the general indications foreshadow the greatest progress in the United States there may be at this time delays and uncertainties in certain immense projects, it is foretold.

Some sort of conflict between labor and capital is indicated by the stars which seem to preface slight obstacles that will be overcome.

Engineering and many lines of constructive effort should benefit to-day when Americans are to be most fortunate in new channels of activity.

Conferences and contracts of international interest are to be numerous in the summer months and May probably will be of unusual significance in financial annals. Newspapers and magazines, veritably, will profit greatly this year, which should be intensely stimulating to writers of every class.

Under this planetary government it is well to push what has been begun and to plan for the future, thinking rather than acting. It is not a favorable day for borrowing money or for seeking financial support. Promoters should so finish until kinder aspects rule.

Social affairs are to loom large on the Canadian horizon all through the year, for entertainments are to be sumptuous in many large cities.

Money is to be spent lavishly on the luxuries of life and the arts should benefit as well as merchants and manufacturers. This is read as an inauspicious day for beginning any big enterprise that requires courageous financial support.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the luxury of a year favorable to contracts and leases. They should be careful to consult a lawyer before signing legal papers.

Children born on this day probably will be variously gifted. These subjects of Taurus usually have power of concentration and the determination that assures success.

YOKOHAMA MARU
WILL NOT DOCK
UNTIL SATURDAY

A day behind schedule due to stiff head winds encountered during the passage from Yokohama, the N.Y.K. liner Yokohama Maru will not arrive at the William Head quarantine station from ports in China and Japan until Saturday morning at 7 o'clock, according to a wireless message received in the city this morning by A. H. Hebb, local agent from the captain of the vessel. This time should bring the ship alongside the Rithet piers shortly before 9 o'clock.

DOROTHY HAS BIG CARGO OF SUGAR

With 477 tons of cargo including a shipment of 415 tons of sugar from Central America, the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Dorothy Alexander is now en route here from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, having left the latter port yesterday afternoon on schedule time. She will dock here between 10 and 11 o'clock. Besides the exceptionally heavy cargo, there are fifty-five passengers aboard the Dorothy who will leave the liner here before she proceeds to Seattle.

WEST COAST SERVICE

The steamer will leave for Port Alice and way ports on the 1st, 11th and 21st of the month.

SHIPPING DURING MONTH OF APRIL
SHOWS INCREASE

The port of Victoria cleared 562,355 tons of shipping during the month of April, it was learned this morning when figures were given out by the Department of Customs. This shows a substantial increase over the figures of last month when there were 496,887 tons here inbound and outbound during March. As usual vessels of United States registry lead the list. There were fifty-three United States ships here with a weight of 106,451 tons. Canada was second on the list with 14,566 tons. There were twelve ships of Japanese registry inbound during the month with a tonnage of 34,985, and eight ships of United Kingdom registry with a weight of 44,534 tons, making a total of 293,553 tons inbound. Outbound tonnage and the number of ships was about the same.

President Cleveland
Has 375 Tons Cargo

Bringing 375 tons of general cargo, 100 bags of mail and thirty-eight passengers for this port, the American Mail liner President Cleveland is now en route here from China, Japan and the Philippine Islands. She will arrive here next Monday morning. There are nearly 400 passengers in all classes aboard the liner, most of whom will go on to Seattle. It is understood here that the vessel has a heavy general cargo for discharge at the Sound port, including a valuable parcel of raw silk for eastern United States silk mills.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, May 1.—Six vessels with a total deadweight tonnage of 56,400 will be added to the fleet of the Yamashita Shipping Company for allocation to the transpacific service of the Japanese company.

MEN OF THE ENGINE ROOM
SHOULDER BIG RESPONSIBILITY IN GREAT SALVAGE FEAT

Feats of endurance and daring marked the work of the engine-room crew of the steamer Salvage King on her record-breaking journey with the disabled freighter Havilah in tow. Through storm and calm, hove-to or proceeding full speed ahead, this number of the gallant ship's complement stuck by their posts when it seemed impossible that the two ships could both survive the angry seas.

HARD WORK

Chief Engineer W. G. Jordan and his assistants, R. Steel, W. G. Owen and William Boyd, second, third and fourth engineers, respectively, have proved their worth on many big salvage jobs, and the work that they did on the Salvage King on her recent trip enhances their reputations. Although he would not discuss it, it was whispered around the vessel by members of the crew that the chief did not have more than an hour or two's sleep at one time between Dutch Harbor and Osaka. He won on duty night and personally handling the great ropes which held the Havilah in place and overseeing the operation of the engine room. For hours at a time he worked on the lower deck, dealt with high in-swinging line, placing great blocks of wood between the rope and the ship so that the bulwarks, stout as they were, would not cave in. Modestly he denied that it was all in a day's work.

The other engineers who kept the ship moving were inspired by the example of the chief. They could afford to take but little rest, for steam had to be maintained through the roughest weather, even though at times the ship was practically hove-to. They are a gallant crew and well deserve to share in the praise being meted out to other members of the ship's company.

The Yamashita Kisen Kaisha and Yamashita Shipping Company, announced here yesterday that four of the vessels have been acquired from Kokusai Line and are ready for immediate service. A motorship is being built and will be ready for use in July and the sixth motorship, which will be commissioned early next year. The four vessels which the Kokusai
